WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—So long as France continues to default on her debt to the United States, the American investment market remains closed to French securities, and no American bankers will be permitted to make loans to her, directly or indirectly. The state department today announced this policy.

This was set forth as the fixed policy of the administration today, following the treasury's action in denying a group of New York bankers permission to participate in a Dutch syndicate loan to France of 100,000,000 guilders.

Crack Down On Defaulter.
It is the first time that Washington has "cracked down" on a defaulter nation by action of a punitive character, and in diplomatic quarters it was considered a sharp rebuke to France. Administration officials were waiting today with interest to see what repercussions there will be in Paris.

Cordell, secretary of state, who announced the treasury's action, said that the administration's policy was "unmistakable." Their approach to the treasury concerned the gold and exchange aspects of the undertaking.

After French loan, May 15.
The extraordinary powers conferred upon the treasury in the banking crisis that spring were brought into play to block the loan.

Young Pa. News is wondering if drivers of trucks think they have more privileges than others. GARY, Ind., Mar. 24.—H. W. Wirt, superintendent of schools here, today said he would go to Washington and disclose the names of members of the administration's "brain trust" who, he says, boasted of a program to upset the American governmental system.

Dr. Wirt's superintendent of schools here, stood by his statements read before a congressional committee by James E. Ransdell, Jr., in Washington. The educator's letter charged that certain members of President Roosevelt's advisory board were trying to overthrow the government in favor of communism.

"I do not care to make the names public now," Dr. Wirt said. "A number of members of the brain trust told me of their aims and desires last summer in Washington. I probably would not decide until I went before the committee just which of my informants I would quote. But all the assertions in my communication to Mr. Ransdell and read by him to the committee are true."

All of the injured were rushed to a local hospital. Eight white men, five negroes and a man so badly burned that classification was difficult comprised the death list. All were transient unemployed. It was feared the death toll would mount as some of the injured were so seriously burned they were expected to die.

There was no immediate identification of the dead. Identification was expected to be a tedious process, since practically all tenants of the bureau were from other cities. When Mr. Borah says: "When you cut down your wheat production, 45,000,000 acres, where are the farmers and people that farmed those 45,000,000 acres going?" Then it's proposed to send 2,000,000 from the crowded cities to the country. How are these two going to pass going and coming?

Those professors in the agriculture department are going to have a tough time answering that traffic problem.

Issues Ultimatum In New York Taxi Strike

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—Mayor F. H. La Guardia today had delivered a sharp ultimatum in an effort to bring to a sudden halt the strike of about 5,000 taxicab drivers which has resulted in an unprecedented wave of violence.

The mayor ordered representatives of both the strikers and the operating companies to appear at city hall for a conference. Failure of either side to comply with the order, the mayor said, would result in the shattering of the blame by that faction for continued "chaos and disorder."

An immediate and permanent settlement of existing differences in the taxicab industry is of the utmost importance, the mayor declared.

Meanwhile sporadic attacks by roving bands of strikers on working drivers appeared to have been halted by efficient police action.

Senior Class Play Pleases Audience

Give these youngsters of the Senior High school dramatics department anything near their capacities and they will turn you out a performance that sends you home cheering. Give them something right down their alley like "Your Uncle Dudley" and you'll have the neighbors cheering with you.

"Your Uncle Dudley" was the vehicle selected by the June graduating class of 1934 to present Friday night, March 23, and the way they presented it was just another vindication of a suspicion this department has had for years, viz. namely and to wit, that high school players ought to put on light performances. In the words of the old vaudeville stage they "laid 'em in the aisles" Friday night.

You'll recognize Uncle Dudley in a moment. He is one of those big hearted, blemished, that every town has who is always addled with the drudgery of civic work, and whose back has been lacerated by the slaps of the boys at the club for outstanding civic achievement. This particular Dudley had more loving cups than an acre of hay, all of them marking some civic achievement. He had a loving cup company.

Dudley maintains a home in which his sister, mother, nephew and niece live. (Continued On Page Two)

WILL ASK HUGE EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION

Administration Maps Program

New Public Works Fund, More For CCC, Will Be Included

ALSO ASK MILLIONS FOR CATTLE FUND

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—The administration is preparing to ask Congress for emergency appropriations which may exceed $2,000,000,000 congressional leaders were informed today.

A huge new public works administration fund, additional sums to carry on the civilian conservation corps and the agricultural department's proposed cattle fund are expected to be included.

All of the emergency funds will be included in a deficiency appropriation bill soon to be prepared by the house appropriations committee.

Still Uncertain

While President Roosevelt indicated in his budget message that emergency funds approaching $2,000,000,000 might be requested, the administration was said to be still uncertain as to the extent of the money to be spent for employment and business recovery in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Congress has already provided $500,000,000 for relief and CWA activities.

The administration originally contemplates an additional $500,000,000 for the public works administration during the fiscal year ending June 30, and $1,750,000,000 for next year.

Secretary of Interior Ickles is said to have "stretched" the fund thru cancellations of the half billion fund may not be asked. At least $300,000,000 is expected to be sought for CCC camps and $250,000,000 for the cattle fund.

live and the home life there was as peaceful as the Argonne Forest in the summer of 1918. Dudley wants to marry a girl from Denmark but has to take care of his sister first and the opportunity is afforded by means of a singing contest with a prize of $5000. His niece looks like the winner and her mother is to take her to Europe for study, opening the way for Dudley to get married.

Ethelyn, the niece wins and Dudley announces his engagement. The prize is held up and rewarded to a competitor and Dudley has to borrow $5000. Being such a good fellow he figures it will be a cinch and finds all his friends with zip-pers on their pockets. He finally gets the $5000 but the niece has gotten married, his sister has hysterics, and then discovers her son has some musical talent and of course the curtain finds Dudley's delayed romance getting the play it deserves.

Boys Good

Ordinarily the girls of a high school production take the white light of approbation by their performances but if Truth is going to be served in this article we must insist that the boys finished win, place and show.

Delbert Fletcher, who took the part of Dudley Dixon was cast exactly right. Now and then Clara Harburt turns up a find in the dramatic class and in Fletcher she has one of the best male leads she has turned out in years.

The part of Ethelyn Church the musical niece was taken by Ruth Wilkison who by the way is really a singer but who filled the dramatic requirements nicely.

Christine Seidenhelm, Dudley's fiancée was portrayed by Charlotte Withers and the opinion seemed to be that Dudley had excellent taste.

Mabel Dixon Church the sister of Dudley, the lad, who seemed to have been vaccinated with a phonograph needle was portrayed by Marion Evans and she had everything the part required.

Cyril Church, the son of Mabel, had James Goodchild in the character. Cyril's part was to barge around the house like a Great Dane and if they have any better bargers in the class than Goodchild he was overlooked.

The part of the mother, Janet Dixon always a different part, was given splendid treatment by Mary Miller.

Charlie Post and Robert Kirby two of the male characters in the play were taken by Edwin Harper and Gerald George. Both of them were in character. Harper as an elderly business man and George as the sweetheart of Ethelyn.

Pleasing Entertainment

"Your Uncle Dudley" was good entertainment and the crowded auditorium thought so in a big way. It was intended for laughs and got the results intended. Written in rapid fire fashion it was presented the safe way and it isn't any trouble here to say honestly that the youngsters did a workmanlike job. Joe P. Replogle, director of music changed his end of the entertainment Friday night by putting the band in the orchestra pit. The band played five numbers, none of them easy, and gave the customers something of a treat. If they imagined the band wasn't up to such a task, they had their answer Friday night.

Declare Probe Fails To Reveal Irregularities

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—New York stock exchange officials have failed to strike "pay dirt" in their private investigation of 50,000 transactions in stocks of nine aviation companies just prior to cancellation of the air mail contracts. It was learned today.

A high official of the exchange said the inquiry has revealed no indication of sales of the air stocks on inside information that the cancellation was imminent.

Nevertheless, the staff of Ferdinand Pecora, senate banking committee counsel, continued to make a similar probe ordered by the committee on motion of Senator Kean (R) of New Jersey.

"If any influential persons had been tipped off, they would have gone into the market to deal in thousands of shares," the exchange official asserted. "But nearly all the sales were of only a few hundred shares. The air mail investigation and the slump in air traffic because of the weather account for much of the heavy selling about that time."

The official also said no "suspicious names" had been discovered in the huge list.

AUTO INDUSTRY PEACE BELIEVED CLOSE AT HAND

to proceed for his departure for Florida on Tuesday on a brief vacation.

During the forenoon, the labor representatives conferred at A. F. of L. headquarters here.

The manufacturers meanwhile conferred at their hotel, and later issued a statement in the name of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, reiterating their stand that they would not consent to A. E. of L. domination of the automobile industry. They placed blame for the existing situation in the industry upon the A. E. of L. unions.

In Crisis Stage

Washington, Mar. 24.—White house negotiations for automobile industry peace moved into the crisis stage today.

Success or failure of President Roosevelt's efforts to avert a general strike in the industry lay in the hands of labor and executive executives within the next 24 hours.

Neither faction has agreed to suggested peace terms as yet, but Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson for the first time predicted agreement was a matter of hours. Meanwhile, labor executives assured the administration that no strike would be ordered until negotiations were concluded. This was held an important concession, in itself.

Unless success does result from today's meetings, the president stands ready to exercise his broad and extraordinary NIRA powers to compel action toward peace. Three days of meetings with the two groups concerned in the controversy have brought him to the conclusion that he must settle their differences speedily or not at all.

HUNT MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN IN MOUNTAIN REGION

the district where posses were working.

Intended Suicide

The mother, Mrs. Pearl McMeier, 38, left her home Tuesday, leaving a note in which she threatened to kill herself because she was "broken hearted."

Her children, crippled Louise, 9, and Betty Mae, 8, left a short time later apparently to look for her.

Throughout the night, torches were used by the posses as they tramped through snow covered fields and wind-swept thickets and cold forests looking for the lost trio.

Mrs. McMeier's note to her husband told a tragic story of a broken heart and shattered love, it read: "Tony: I guess you care nothing for me, so I just decided to step out of your life and don't come look for me."

Worries About Children

"The little gun you run for so often to worry and aggravate me with will and my life today and old Chester river will swallow me up and I will be out of your way. Only I die with a broken heart to leave my little children and there is only one thing I ask you to do for me and that is to take care of my dear children and if anyone finds my dead body don't look at me for you hated me." It was signed "Pearl."

Another note, written by Lucille as she was about to start out on search for her mother, read: "Daddy: Mama is gone. She went this morning and I went and looked and the gun was gone. I know Mama shot herself. I found the note in the machine drawer and me and Betty Mae is going to hunt for Mama and if we don't find her we're not coming back."

was named alternate to the state spelling bee, while her daughter, Miss Faye Gallaher, a stenographer, was third in the contest.

Trick words did not phase the contestants but some comparatively easy ones proved the undoing of most of the entrants. Some of the words the finalists went down on were "occlude" and "colonnade" and "larlat," while the harder ones were rattled off with ease.

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Sylling, presided at the spelling bee, while George F. Barker, principal of the Mt. Jackson consolidated school pronounced the words.

Mr. Sylling stated that he is attempting to raise a fund by popular subscription to send the county champion to Harrisburg to compete against the cream from other sections in the state. He believes that Mr. Ice will be a hard man to defeat. Already, contributions have been made to the fund, and by the end of next week, it is hoped to have enough money in sight to send the champion to the state final.

er gangsters knew the entire layout of the Crown Point jail "throughly." They had obtained the information from 15 prisoners brought from the Crown Point jail to Michigan City.

Pierpont, asserted also, the attorney general said, that Dillinger's escape from Crown Point "would have been impossible without inside help."

The gangster added that he believed Dillinger had a right gun instead of a wooden weapon.

The death penalty for Clark was demanded in the closing arguments of Assistant Prosecutors Benjamin Motter and Joseph Flick. The latter asserted that "the life of Barker is worth a thousand such lives as that of Clark."

He said that the nation that gangsters and racketeers cannot kill police officers.

NO FRENCH LOAN BY U. S. BANKERS TO BE PERMITTED

In announcing his decision, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau also pointed out that the Johnson bill has passed the senate, and is expected to pass the house. This bill, sponsored by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, would specifically forbid the flotation of any securities in the United States from the proceeds of a foreign loan.

"Since it is the sentiment of congress and the administration that loans should not be made to foreign countries in default of their debts to the United States, the treasury rules that American capital should not participate," said Morgenthau.

EASTER

One week from tomorrow is Easter, the day of the Resurrection, the day of renewed hope and life. As a Christian nation we mark the day as one of the holiest of our calendar.

We mark it in different ways. Some with a prayer and act of worship. Our outward expression of the day we mark in flowers and justly so, for Easter marks the beginning of the season when the flowers are with us again. May we suggest that you think of that course now, for that is the true bouquet of our flowers.

upon by the other powers, to refrain from any action and to withhold protection from its citizens if engaged in activities which would tend to defeat the collective efforts of the other powers against the aggressor.

This offer, however, was contingent upon the rest of the world not only agreeing to but actually carrying out a substantial reduction of armaments.

American officials found it difficult to believe the French security demands as outlined in the note to Great Britain were intended to apply to the United States. It was generally believed France would be satisfied with the American offer of last May and that the new demands for security were directed at Great Britain and the other European nations.

Plans Being Made To Rush Trial Of "The Owl", Banghart

BRITISH SEEK TO EXTRADITE FACTOR

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Formal sentence was to be passed today on Roger Touhy, notorious gang leader, and his two henchmen found guilty by a jury of the ransom kidnapping of John "The Barber" Factor and ordered imprisoned for 99 years. Judge Michael Feinberg indicated he would deny the defense motion of Attorney William Scott Stewart for a new trial. Stewart said he would base his plea on the state supreme court ruling handling the method of choosing grand jurors in Cook county illegal.

To Try Banghart
Prosecutor Wilbert Crowley, who directed the successful prosecution of Touhy, Chas. Schaefer and Albert Kator, today announced that he would request an early trial for Banghart, "The Owl", Banghart, Banghart is held on indictment charging participation in the $70,000 ransom abduction of Factor.

The British government plans to request the extradition of Factor on Monday to stand trial abroad on charges of participating in an alleged stock swindle.

JURY'S VERDICT FREES SOLES ON MURDER CHARGE

home from visiting the home of a friend, Mrs. Rose Hardy, Police, at that time, however, decided upon a verdict.

Insisting his daughter never took her own life, Thomas Finch started an investigation. When he laid evidence by the district attorney, Soles was arrested and later indicted on the murder charge.

Efforts to free the courtroom, crowded to capacity, by jury foreman Miss Rose McCloskey said: "We find the defendant not guilty."

A smile swept across the face of the defendant, Ivy Johnson, negro maid in the Soles home, scene of the shooting, elicited when murmurs of approval rumbled through the spectators.

After six ballots were taken last night before retiring, the jury stood 11 to 1 for acquittal. This morning, the decision for a not guilty verdict came.

Soles stepped to liberty and into the arms of numerous friends. Pressed for a statement, he had nothing to say.

This came to an end the most dramatic murder trial in Allegheny county in several years with the mystery surrounding the recent Mrs. Soles' death still unsolved.

RESCUERS HUNT MISSING PLANE NEAR SALT LAKE

passengers and crew increased as hour after hour passed and no word was heard from them.

Enroute to Cheyenne.
The plane was enroute from Salt Lake City to Cheyenne, Wyo., the ship apparently was not sighted after it left Salt Lake City. It was ordered to report its progress by radio 20 minutes after it left here, but the report was never received at Cheyenne, where radio operators awaited it.

The ship is a huge Boeing low-winged monoplane.

A report, unverified, was that the liner was seen over Emery, Utah, yesterday at 3 p. m. as it disappeared into a blizzard. A man whose name was not revealed was reported to have said the ship seemed to be in distress.

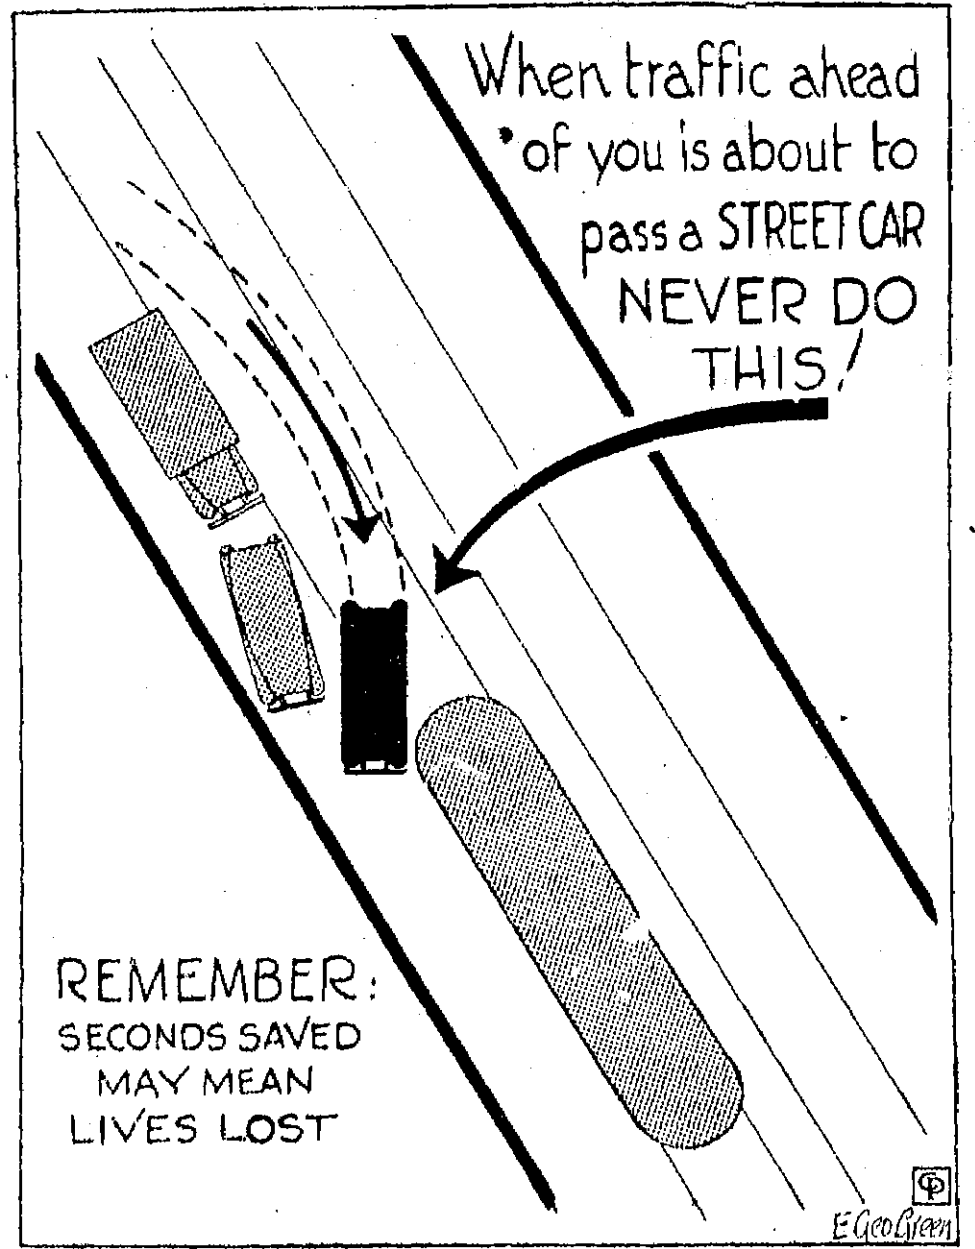

At 9 o'clock the weather over the Salt Lake-Cheyenne air route was reported growing worse. A heavy fog soup fog prevailed that made the search by air for the missing plane and its human cargo almost futile.

All eastbound army airmail schedules were cancelled today.

The crew of the missing plane consisted of Pilot J. Danielson and Lloyd Anderson, and Stewardess Mary Carter.

The passenger list as announced by United Airlines here included: E. L. Walker of Rock Springs, Wyo., J. J. Sterling of Benton Harbor, Mich., flying from Los Angeles to Chicago; Bert McLaughlin, Marcelus Zimmerman and W. B. Berland of Des Moines, Iowa, flying from Los Angeles to Des Moines.

CURB THE MOUNTING DEATH RATE

INCREASE OPERATIONS AT BOTH TIN MILLS

Manufacturing Company resumed operations a week ago, the Lehigh Portland Cement Company announced that it would resume around March 1, the American Can Company resumed operation about two weeks ago and the Blair Strip Steel Company announced a backlog of orders that will keep the plant running for some time.

The announcement of the tin mills is of especial importance inasmuch as the two plants are the largest industrial plants in the city. The reaction in the hills of merchants will be felt shortly as the sun will shine just a little brighter because of it.

RESTRICTIONS ON TWO BANKS WILL SOON BE LIFTED

port was sent to Harrisburg and the State Department of Banking gave both banks a clean bill of health.

On To Washington
In order to operate a guaranteed bank, that is, one in which all deposits are insured by the Federal government, it is necessary to receive the approval of the Federal Depositors Insurance Corporation. To get this approval it is necessary that the results of the examination and the approval of the State Department of Banking be sent to Washington, D. C.

These approvals and reports are going forward from Harrisburg today, and should be received by the Washington authorities sometime Monday morning. The formal approval of the F. D. I. C. will then be a matter of two or three days if it is felt and immediately upon approval from Washington both the Peoples Bank and the Bessemer State Bank are ready to open at a minutes notice.

The opening of the two banks will occasion no surprise as it has been generally known for some time that the institutions were sound and that it was merely a matter of reducing some of the assets to a greater liquidity. In neither bank was a depositor asked to buy any stock or make any sacrifices. In both cases, every deposit will carry interest at the usual rate from the time of the bank holiday, something not done by many of the banks which were closed by the President.

Deposit Guarantee
By becoming a member of the Federal Depositors Insurance Corporation, a federal corporation, every depositor in the Peoples Bank and the Bessemer State Bank who has less than $2500 on deposit has that deposit guaranteed. Under the guarantee provisions there is no possible chance of depreciation or loss as the Federal Government stands back of the money.

Formal announcement is expected of the bank openings within a few days, but until that time no statement can be obtained from the management of either bank.

The "guests" of an eastern penal institution recently staged a theatrical production entitled "Jail Jail The Gang's All Here!" In selecting a title the producers forgot that Samuel Insull is still playing what looks like a non-stop run in far-off Greece.

Formal announcement is expected of the bank openings within a few days, but until that time no statement can be obtained from the management of either bank.

SAYS F. D. R. BETTER THAN U. S. DESERVES

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — "Today the American people have a leader better than our institutions deserve—and we ought to make the most of it," Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority, declared in an address before the Ethical society here.

Dr. Morgan, an outstanding American engineer, characterized President Roosevelt as "a leader with vision, sincerity and persistence."

He added: "We wonder what the outcome of that leadership will be—whether we can have a new civilization with greater hope, for the average man, for fulfillment without exploitation and the predatory processes."

"Mother: 'How are you getting on with your golf lessons?'"

Barbara: "My dear, when that pet told me to address the ball, I actually couldn't think of a word to say."

Sunday School Teacher: "And now children, what is the last thing you do before you go to bed at night?"

Bright Girl: "Put the latchkey under the doormat for mother."

IT IS SAID
that "nothing succeeds like success". Our success has been due to a right policy: "Give the best of service at moderate prices."

WILL ASK HUGE EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION

Administration Maps Program

New Public Works Fund, More For CCC, Will Be Included

ALSO ASK MILLIONS FOR CATTLE FUND

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—The Administration is preparing to ask Congress for emergency appropriations which may exceed $2,000,000,000 congressional leaders were informed today.

A huge new public works administration fund, additional sums to carry on the civilian conservation corps and the agricultural department's proposed cattle fund are expected to be included.

All of the emergency funds will be included in a deficiency appropriation bill soon to be prepared by the house appropriations committee.

Still Uncertain
While President Roosevelt indicated in his budget message that emergency funds approaching $2,000,000,000 might be requested, the administration was said to be still uncertain as to the extent of the money to be spent for employment and business recovery in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Congress has already provided $950,000,000 for relief and CWA activities.

The administration originally contemplates an addition $500,000,000 for the public works administration during the fiscal year ending June 30, and $1,750,000,000 for next year.

Secretary of Interior Ickles is said to have "stretched" the fund through cancellations so that the half billion fund may not be asked. At least $300,000,000 is expected to be sought for CCC camps and $250,000,000 for the cattle fund.

live and the home life there was as peaceful as the Argonne Forest in the summer of 1918. Dudley wants to marry a girl from Denmark but has to take care of his sister first and the opportunity is afforded by means of a singing contest with a prize of $5000. His niece looks like the winner and her mother is to take her to Europe for study, opening the way for Dudley to get married.

Ethelyn, the niece wins and Dudley announces his engagement. The prize is held up and rewarded to a competitor and Dudley has to borrow $5,000. Being such a good fellow he figures it will be a cinch and finds all his friends with zip-pers on their pockets. He finally gets the $5,000 but the niece has gotten married, his sister has hysterics, and then discovers her son has some musical talent and of course the curtain finds Dudley's delayed romance getting the play it deserves.

Boys Good

Ordinarily the girls of a high school production take the white light of approbation by their performances but if truth is going to be served in this article we must insist that the boys finished win, place and show.

Delbert Fletcher, who took the part of Dudley Dixon was cast exactly right. Now and then Clara Hartsuff turns up a find in the dramatics class and in Fletcher she has one of the best male leads she has turned out in years.

The part of Ethelyn Church the musical niece was taken by Ruth Wilkinson who by the way is really a singer but who filled the dramatic requirements nicely.

Christine Sederholm, Dudley's fiancée was portrayed by Charlotte Withers and the opinion seemed to be that Dudley had excellent taste. Mabel Dixon Church the sister of Dudley, the lad, who seemed to have been vaccinated with a phonograph needle was portrayed by Marion Evans and she had everything that part required.

Cyril Church, the son of Mabel, had James Goodchild in the character. Cyril's part was to barge around the house like a Great Dane and if they have any better bargers in the class than Goodchild he was overlooked.

The part of the mother, Janet Dixon always a different part, was given splendid treatment by Mary Miller.

Charlie Post and Robert Kirby two of the male characters in the play were taken by Edwin Harper and Gerald George. Both of them were in character, Harper as an elderly business man and George as the sweetheart of Ethelyn.

Pleasing Entertainment
"Your Uncle Dudley" was good entertainment and the crowded auditorium thought so in a big way. It was intended for laughs and got the results intended. Written in rapid fire fashion it was presented the safe way and it isn't any trouble here to say honestly that the youngsters did a workmanlike job.

Joe P. Replig, director of music changed his end of the entertainment Friday night by putting the band in the orchestra pit. The band played five numbers, none of them easy, and gave the customers something of a treat. If they imagined the band wasn't up to such a task, they had their answer Friday night.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—New York stock exchange officials have failed to strike "pay dirt" in their private investigation of 60,000 transactions in stocks of nine aviation companies just prior to cancellation of the air mail contracts, it was learned today.

A high official of the exchange said the inquiry has revealed no indication of sales of the air stocks on inside information that the cancellation was imminent.

Nevertheless, the staff of Ferdinand Pecora, senate banking committee counsel, continued to make a similar probe, ordered by the committee on motion of Senator Kean (R) of New Jersey.

"If any influential persons had been tipped off, they would have gone into the market to deal in thousands of shares," the exchange official asserted. "But nearly all of the sales were of only a few hundred shares. The air mail investigation because of the weather account for much of the heavy selling about that time."

The official also said no "suspicious names" had been discovered in the huge list.

AUTO INDUSTRY PEACE BELIEVED CLOSE AT HAND

to proceed for his departure for Florida on Tuesday on a brief vacation.

During the forenoon, the labor representatives conferred at A. F. of L. headquarters here.

The manufacturers meanwhile conferred at their hotel, and later issued a statement in the name of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce reiterating their stand that they would not consent to A. E. of L. domination of the automobile industry. They placed blame for the existing situation in the industry upon the A. E. of L. unions.

In Crisis Stage
Washington, Mar. 24.—White house negotiations for automobile industry peace moved into the crisis stage today.

Success or failure of President Roosevelt's efforts to avert a general strike in the industry lay in conferences with workers and executives within the next 24 hours.

Neither faction has agreed to suggested peace terms as yet, but Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson for the first time predicted agreement was a matter of hours. Meanwhile, labor executives assured the administration that no strike would be ordered until negotiations were concluded. This was held an important concession, in itself.

Unless success does result from today's meetings, the president stands ready to exercise his broad and extraordinary NRA powers to compel action toward peace. Three days of meetings with the two groups concerned in the controversy have brought him to the conclusion that he must settle their differences speedily or not at all.

HUNT MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN IN MOUNTAIN REGION

the district where posses were working.

Intended Suicide
The mother, Mrs. Pearl McMeier, 36, left her home Tuesday, leaving a note in which she threatened to kill herself because she was "broken hearted."

Her children, crippled Louise, 9, and Betty Mae, 6, left a short time later apparently to look for her.

Throughout the night, torches were used by the posses as they tramped through snow covered fields and wind-swept thickets and cold forests looking for the lost trio.

Mrs. McMeier's note to her husband told a tragic story of a broken heart and shattered love. It read: "Tony: I guess you care nothing for me, so I just decided to step out of your life and don't come look for me."

Worries About Children
"The little gun you run for so often to worry and aggravate me with will end my life today and old Chester will swallow me up and I will be out of your way. Only I die with a broken heart to leave my little children and there is only one thing I ask you to do for me and that is to take care of my dear children and if anyone finds my dead body don't look at me for you hated me bad." It was signed "Pearl."

Another note, written by Lucille as she was about to start out on search for her mother, read: "Daddy: Mama is gone. She went this morning and I went and looked and the gun was gone. I found a note that Mama wrote. I know Mama shot herself. I found the note in the machine drawer and me and Betty Mae is going to hunt for Mama and if we don't find her we're not coming back."

was named alternate to the state spelling bee, while her daughter, Miss Faye Gallaher, a stenographer, was third in the contest.

Trick words did not phase the contestants but some comparatively easy ones proved the undoing of most of the entrants. Some of the words the finalists went down on were "ocellate," and "colonnade" and "lariat," while the harder ones were rattled off with ease.

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, presided at the spelling bee, while George F. Barker, principal of the Mt. Jackson consolidated school pronounced the words.

Mr. Syling stated that he is attempting to raise a fund by popular subscription to send the county champion to Harrisburg to compete against the cream from other sections in the state. He believes that Mr. Ice will be a hard man to defeat. Already, contributions have been made to the fund, and by the end of next week, it is hoped to have enough money in sight to send the champion to the state final.

NEW REVELATIONS ON DILLINGER'S JAIL BREAKING

er gangsters knew the entire layout of the Crown Point jail "throughly." They had obtained the information from 15 prisoners brought from the Crown Point jail to Michigan City.

Pierpont asserted also, the attorney general said, that Dillinger's escape from Crown Point "would have been impossible without inside help."

The gangster added that he believed Dillinger had a real gun instead of a wooden weapon.

The death penalty for Clark was demanded in the closing arguments of Assistant Prosecutors Benjamin Motter and Joseph Flick. The latter asserted that "the life of Sarker is worth a thousand such lives as that of Clark... we must show the nation that gangsters and racketeers cannot kill police officers."

In announcing his decision, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau also pointed out that the Johnson bill has passed the senate, and is expected to pass the house. This bill, sponsored by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, would specifically forbid the flotation of any securities in the United States from countries that are in default on their obligations to the U. S. treasury.

"Since it is the sentiment of congress and the administration that loans should not be made to foreign countries in default of their debts to the United States, the treasury rules that American capital should not participate," said Morgenthau.

EASTER

One week from tomorrow is Easter, the day of the Resurrection, the day of renewed hope and life. As a Christian nation we mark the day as one of the holiest of our calendar.

We mark it in different ways, in song and praise and worship. Our outward expression of the day we mark in flowers and justly so, for Easter marks the beginning of the season, when the flowers are with us again. May we suggest that you think of that corsage now, or that potted plant or bouquet of cut flowers?

COMPETITION

COMPETITIVE building is not limited to navies. It is found in many fields of modern life, imposing upon the public in several of them financial burdens comparable with that of naval construction when world powers aspire at the same time to the biggest navy.

For years there has been going on throughout the United States a free-for-all race and many private races for the doubtful honor and advantages of being the larger city. Communities have forced their growth in population and area merely that their burghers might lord it over some rival town or city. Some of these rivalries between cities and towns have been written into history and come down through the generations as traditions.

Competition in skyscraper construction, between hotels for leadership in number of rooms, between ocean liners for speed and size, between railroads for speed and between corporations for highest capitalization is not for profit only.

Cities and towns build libraries, museums, are galleries, parks, public buildings, airports, convention halls, stadiums and indulge other desires because other cities and towns have them or because they want to be first in having them.

This desire to be bigger and better has been named "adult-infantism," but while it often assumes childish proportions it is often a virtue. Were it not for this "adult-infantism" many communities would be devoid of all the graces.

THE WEALTH OF WORDS

No language in history or in the present world is so rich as English. Its vocabulary has borrowed freely from every tongue and continues to do so with every extension of human thought. The vigorous progress of the English-speaking races throughout the world constantly compels new additions to its wealth of words, while the long tradition of English classic literature keeps older words in use and understanding. These are some of the reasons why the ordinary English dictionary contains at least 150,000 words and the monumental Oxford dictionary offers definitions for 600,000 separate words and usages of words.

There is an astounding contrast between these available resources of languages and the amount of it which serves the average man for his daily needs. The Bell telephone system, which deals almost exclusively in communications by the spoken word, has made studies which show that a mere handful of words is enough to keep its wires busy. There are 100,000,000 telephone conversations in the United States every day, but 30 words account for 80 per cent of what is actually said in them. A trifling total of 700 words provided 95 per cent of all telephone conversations.

This is interesting but not conclusive. Telephone talks are usually—though not always—brief and to the point. But the meagerness of the average vocabulary is confirmed by other evidence. Tests have shown that the ordinary high school graduate or college freshman has only about 1500 words at his tongue's end. The full-blown business man can master and command about 5000. He knows many others, but he rarely uses them.

The testimony of literature is to the same effect, though it is obvious that there are many words common to writing which are rarely heard in speech. Shakespeare wrote of many themes and all sorts and conditions of men and reached the heights of human reflection, speculation and imagination, yet 20,000 words were all he needed to accomplish his infinite variety. The English Bible, the unquestioned anchorage of good English, contains about 9000 different words. The ordinary fiction writer rarely uses more than 3000 of the 150,000 words which are at his elbow in the dictionary.

The other side of this story concerns a quality of the written or spoken word which is to some degree beyond the dictionary. The dictionary supplied definitions, but there must also be considered a word's connotations. These are as wide as all the experience which is associated with any given word. The simplest of words may mean a thousand things and usually does. This fact is the basis of a remarkable statement made and demonstrated some years ago by Prof. Lewis M. Terman of Stanford University, to the effect that the ability to give adequate definitions of five out of a selected list of 100 words indicates a working vocabulary of 15,000 words.

A HOME REMEDY

The trouble with this country is, economic mal-adjustment, due to enforced under-consumption. But some of the under-consumption is not enforced. It can be alleviated. There is, to a considerable extent, a simple home remedy.

Take the matter of dairy products. There is in this country a surplus of 100 million pounds of storage butter. Butter is milk, processed for the ultimate consumer. Kansas produces annually about 80 million pounds of butter. Almost the surplus of the nation.

One of our troubles is that Americans do not use enough milk in its various forms—milk, whey, cream, cheese and butter. It has been estimated that if each farm family would increase its use a half a pound each week the present surplus would disappear in three months. And butterfat prices would rise. A lot of farm families use also. If every dairy farmer could eat only three families, including his own, to use an extra half glass of milk a day, the surplus would disappear in two months and a half. And the continued use of this extra half glass of milk would prevent the surplus from becoming a butter surplus.

One of the troubles of this butter business is lazy women, who won't cook. They get stuff out of cans. Home cooking, if it is good, requires the use of much milk, cream, cheese and butter. But if you buy your pies and cakes and cookies at the bakery, and pour your vegetables out of a can, and get your desserts from the store, or if women of the family are still lazier and gather fatter and the kids at mealtimes around the kitchen sink and open a sack of hamburgers or wienies, precious little milk do they consume. And they pay for it by lacking the vitamins which protect good health. The money lazy women give to doctors is given to the dairy farmers would make us all healthy and wealthy and wise.

Much of this under-consumption of American produce is inevitable. The clogged wheels of industry have caused it. But some of it—enough of it to make it worth while—comes from purely domestic causes. Let us say bad home habits. For instance, women who rush home at half past five and put their hands to their brows and say, "My Lord. What am I going to have for supper?" and end it up by dropped eggs, stony ginger snaps and a can of peaches.

These old stockers are the cause of some of our grief—Emporia Gazette.

WHAT IS "BENEATH YOUR DIGNITY?"

You hear people say, "I can't do that. It would be beneath my dignity."

But what do they mean when they use that phrase? What is a man's dignity? And what things are beneath it? Is dignity a manner? Is it a position in life? Is it where you stand or what you do?

As for me, I think of dignity as an inward state. No tilt of the chin. No arrogant squaring of the shoulders. No coldness of the eye. No expression of external power or position or money. . . . I think of it as character, as nobility of spirit, as strength of mind, as something that is born and grows and develops in the storm and stress of living. . . . Not something you put on as you do a coat of armor, or that you wear when you are before the crowd and take off when you are by yourself or in the heart of the home.

It may be serious, but it is not solemn. It may laugh and shout and rollick without abatement of its essential self. It may play the joyous fool and still be dignified. . . . You may find dignity in a tiny baby, in a tumbling puppy, in a spoiled home. An elephant may reach his enormous trunk to you and receive a peanut and still preserve his dignity. A lion may be caged and yet his dignity it not taken from him. A man may walk to the gallows and lose his head and have it tumble in a basket and still possess all the dignity any man may have.

When we say "I can't do that because it would be beneath my dignity," nine times in ten we are not thinking of the deed itself, but of what people would think of us. And we are not dignified then—we are the slaves of other men's opinions.

We lose our dignity when we speak of it. It is a word that had better be left unspoken. It is a thought that should not come into our minds. Dignity never mentions itself. It lives and that's enough.

FOR THAT "RAINY DAY"

Because you have never been able to make a large sum of money at one time, you have never given any serious attention to accumulating a bank account.

The idea of depositing a small sum each week and not disturbing it throughout the year does not appeal to you as a saving method.

Isn't it true that you have not wanted to adopt a plan which might make it necessary for you to deprive yourself of something in order to keep up the payments with regularity?

You want to feel free to spend according to the limits of your earnings.

And yet you complain that you have never had a bank deposit large enough to tide you over some unforeseen demand.

When such a drain has come, you have had to go in debt, facing a struggle to meet your obligations.

Of course there is worry and often discouragement.

Your present state of despondency may be the result of not having made any preparation for unexpected expenses.

As a sensible person you should realize that you cannot go on, year after year, without having unusual demands upon your resources.

It is better to be prepared than have to meet them with future income?

DEDUCTION FOR DEPRECIATION

The revenue act provides for a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in the trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence. For convenience, such allowance usually is referred to as depreciation.

In claiming a deduction for depreciation several fundamental principles must be observed. The deduction must be confined to property actually used in trade, business, profession, and to improvements on real property, other than property used by the taxpayer as his personal residence. In general, it applies to the taxpayer's capital assets—buildings, machinery, etc.—the cost of which can not be deducted as a business expense.

A lawyer, doctor, or other professional man may not charge off as a current expense the cost of a library used wholly in his profession, this being a capital expenditure and the library a capital asset, but he may deduct an allowance for depreciation based upon the useful life of the library. If part of a professional man's residence is used by him for office purposes, a proportionate amount of the depreciation sustained may be deducted, based generally on the ratio of the number of rooms used in such purposes to the total number of rooms in the building.

The same principle applies if a taxpayer rents to others a portion of his residence. Under such conditions, however, the taxpayer must include in his gross income the rentals received.

Veterans' Cause Still Popular
Senate Galleries Are Fire Traps
Senator Robinson on Top Again

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Veterans' compensation is not such a dead issue as one would imagine.

Senator Henry W. Hatfield, Republican, made a speech for an hour and a half in the senate the other day on veterans' compensation. Every senator except three walked out on him—and those three caught up a little on unfinished business.

The galleries, however, were crowded. One could hear mutterings of appreciation there.

Senator Hatfield is looked upon by the Democrats as merely a speech-maker to embarrass the administration.

His speeches are described as dull and bombastic. This particular speech seemed to confirm that allegation.

But when Senator Hatfield told of veterans being turned out of government hospitals because of the economy measure, while billions were being spent elsewhere, the galleries seemed very much with him.

DANGER

The public galleries of the senate always are crowded these days. If fire should break out among the old wood partitions, the government would be guilty of loss of life. Few could escape.

CHANGED JOE

Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas is a revived leader.

Last year at this time he seemed downcast. He appeared to be only the nominal leader. Senator James P. Byrnes of South Carolina seemed to be the chief representative in the senate of President Roosevelt.

Senator Huey Long, too, was unrelentingly lambasting the big corporation lawyer from Little Rock.

Then, a few months ago, President Roosevelt not only reassured Senator Robinson, but pulled the braces from under Senator Long.

Now Robinson takes as much interest in progressive measures as he formerly took in what many persons term reactionary measures. And he moves with complete self-assurance.

From the time of his enlightenment after the was first to allow Christianity to be brought to England, by St. Augustine, the common man had only such rights as his baron chose to give him.

1779—Col. George Rogers Clark, 27, sent Lieut. Gov. Henry Hamilton, commander of the fortified town of Vincennes a demand for his unconditional surrender, and got back a note saying:

"Lieut. Gov. Hamilton begs leave to account Col. Clark that he and his garrison are not disposed to be saved into any action unworthy British subjects."

Clark's answer was a hail of fire so fierce and relentless that within a few hours Hamilton raised the white flag, and the great exploit of Clark and his frontiersmen in capturing the British stronghold and insuring American possession of the mid-west was at a successful end.

1763—The House voted 125 to 47, the impeachment of President Andrew Johnson for alleged violation of the Tenure of Office act. Act—only he was suspected of having had designs to launch a revolutionary movement, but Johnson's attempt to remove Edwin M. Stanton, secretary of war, after the rest of his cabinet had resigned, provided the excuse for actions. Two weeks later the Senate organized as a high court of impeachment with Chief Justice Chase presiding, and after a trial that continued two months, voted 35 for conviction, 19 for acquittal. But two-thirds of the votes were necessary for conviction, and he missed by one vote being honorably removed from highest office in land.

NATION BUILDING ROADS

WITH a total of 362 Pennsylvania is leading the country in the number of public works highway projects under way, according to figures received today by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, from the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads at Washington. These projects are to cost $11,121,000 and at present are employing 10,571 men.

Texas is second with 296 projects, but its total is $14,274,000, or more than $3,000,000 greater than Pennsylvania, and the number of men employed is 18,506.

The report for the country as a whole, according to the figures received at the headquarters of the state motoring body, discloses that up to March 1, 1934, a total of 6,265 projects, estimated to cost $318,119,000, had been advertised for construction or begun by day labor employed directly by highway authorities. Of a total of 5,476 projects awarded for construction, 3,654 were under way on March 1 and 681 were completed. The work under construction, estimated to cost $212,826,000, was providing employment for 125,649 men.

Ohio led the states adjoining Pennsylvania in the number of projects under way. It had 189, estimated to cost $9,645,000, and employing 6,049 men. New York had 183, costing an estimated $18,446,000, and providing work for 4,243. New Jersey had 22, employing 791 men, and scheduled to cost $2,829,000. Maryland's total number of projects was 21, costing $1,030,000 and employing 375. Delaware had but 12, costing approximately $900,000, and employing 1,000 men.

These reports indicate, that 74.5 per cent of the $400,000,000 provided for public works highways under the National Industrial Recovery Act is started, or about to get under way, and that Pennsylvania is getting a goodly share of this road construction.

NEEDS CAREFUL STUDY

President Roosevelt's proposal for federal control of communication lines needs to be studied very carefully before it can be indorsed as a wise move or one calculated to advance public welfare.

It has several angles, one of which recently was pointed out by former Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri. Mr. Reed saw in the proposal, if adopted, a grave danger to the freedom of the press. If the government should take control of the telegraph and telephone lines, he emphasized, it would be in a position to "largely influence and circumscribe the dissemination of news."

The warning is one to be noted by all who believe in a free press. It is not charged that Mr. Roosevelt had this in mind when he outlined his proposal. That the danger referred to by Mr. Reed resides in the plan, though, is cause for concern. Whether the government, if it controlled communication lines, would seek to exercise a censorship over news is beside the question. The point is, no such power should be lodged in the government. It was only at great effort, as represented in united action, that the country's newspapers kept out of the newspaper code a provision interpreted as endangering the freedom of the press.

A free and challenging press is needed now more, perhaps, than at any other time in the nation's history. The rights of the people, individually and by groups, are being circumscribed by legislative action or governmental edict to an extent never before attempted in this country. Only by giving the people an unobstructed view of what is being done can there be averted the danger of their losing their liberty as completely as have the Germans and the Italians.

Freedom of the press must be preserved at all costs.

SHAKING HANDS ACROSS THE PACIFIC

Notes exchanged by the secretary of state and the Japanese foreign minister are interesting. Mr. Hirota tells Mr. Hull that his country has no intention whatever to provoke and make trouble with any other power, adding that "no question exists between Japan and the United States that is fundamentally incapable of amicable solution." Mr. Hull agrees and declares that, if any controversy should arise, the American government will be prepared "to examine the position of Japan in a spirit of amity."

Nothing could be fairer than this; nor need the sincerity of either power be doubted.

But diplomatic language can not always be taken literally. Professions of the kind create an atmosphere of good will, although outstanding issues are not likely to be settled by an exchange of compliments. Non-recognition of Manchukuo, for example, remains a sore spot in the relations of the two countries, while the American policy of the open door in China is directly contrary to the purposes of Japan, so far as they are apparent.

But if these international courtesies make matters no better, they at least do not make them worse.

FAIR AND REASONABLE

There is nothing to prevent business from governing itself by agreed rules. All that is required is the will on the part of those involved. If men in business really wish to settle their own disputes, and manage their own affairs without appeal to courts of law, there is no reason why they can not do so. But there is the rub.

As a nation we have fallen so completely into the habit of looking to government departments, commissions, boards, courts, or other devices to regulate everything, that we are predisposed not to exert ourselves. We want somebody to assume our responsibilities.

Perhaps it would be a good thing for business to assume the job of its own regulations. A little less wishbone and a lot more backbone might be a valuable alteration, not only for American business, but for the millions of people of America.

WOMAN'S PLACE IN THE HOME

When a woman bites an alligator that's news.

That's what a Guatemalan Amazon is reported to have done, and one can think of nothing more startling in the way of pained surprise than the astonishment of the alligator when it found the denture tables turned on it.

There is no moral to the story so far as anyone knows. It's merely one of the oddities of the news, although it does show what a woman can do when she makes up her mind. If she did it.

THEY FOUND GOLD!

Two young men who couldn't get a job and wouldn't beg, went into the California woods to look for gold.

They knew nothing about gold hunting, but they were young, strong and energetic, in love with life, not infected by any doubts of its value, and they intended to have a good time wherever they were and whatever they were doing. One was a West Point graduate who hadn't been commissioned, the other was a German boy from Saxony who was doing his best to get along in a strange country.

They didn't find much gold. Just about enough for beans, one of them told me. They dug, they ditched, they panned, they sweated, they toiled and they found just about enough gold to buy food at the country stores. . . . But they did have that good time they had promised themselves. . . . And when winter came they did not retreat to the city. They were in a national forest and they decided to stay where they were, in the woods, in the deep-piled snow.

They built themselves a house, with a hammer, an ax, an adz and nails. Cut down trees, erected a frame, covered it with slabs, split one tree into shingles for the roof, split other trees and made a wood floor, carried rocks to the site, found yellow clay and made a fireplace. They found a generator in an abandoned automobile, built a waterwheel in a creek and had electric lights in their house. . . . For food they had beans, home-made bread, flapjacks and hardy any vegetables or fruit. . . . And they did have plenty of meat. They shot deer and trapped bear, and salted the meat down for winter use. Thus they lived the winter through, so far from "civilization" that it was a two-day trip into town for mail.

When spring came the West Point graduate went back home to locate a job, the Saxony youth came back to town again with only a few nuggets in his pocket.

But I think those two did find plenty of gold. They found it in themselves. They learned what a man CAN do when he must. They learned how much they knew, how much they could stand. Out of that winter in that cabin in the hills, out of that rugged experience, they took the stuff of the hero but half-dressed in nature and from it forced their own eternal characters. They made themselves forever independent of the little nagging needs and necessities of other men. . . . They will be forever able, now, to stand alone.

WE ALL MAKE MISTAKES

Among your New Year's resolutions was there one to be more liberal and tolerant toward others and their frailties?

You may be in a position where no one in daily contact with you is privileged to speak to you frankly about your weaknesses.

Therefore you may have the erroneous idea that you have but few faults obnoxious to others.

Because those in daily contact with you must refrain from directing your attention to your errors, you begin to have the opinion that you seldom make mistakes.

But you do make many errors in judgment, as well as in about you, those who are about you.

Fortunately, you are about you, those who are about you, those who are about you.

If you are as fair in your judgment of others as you are favorable concerning yourself, you will not be so heartless in your treatment of those who, at times, fail to come up to your expectations.

Everyone makes mistakes sometimes, so be more charitable in prodding others.

THE GOLFERS CRY

Soon will the robin appear.

Soon will the green grass return.

Soon will the rivulets clear

Will flourish the wild flower and fern.

Soon will the golfer come out,

Eager to challenge and bet.

Soon will each club swinger shout:

"How many strokes do I get?"

Long was the winter and still.

Now the birds warble once more,

Till and say daffodil

Blossom again as of yore.

Soon I shall hear someone yell:

"I never can play when it's wet!

I haven't been feeling so well.

How many strokes do I get?"

As tulips their color retain

And jonquils stay yellow and gold,

So golfers the same will remain,

And will till their bodies lie cold.

Wherever they gather you'll hear

This cry from the golf-playing set:

"I've played only three times this year.

How many strokes do I get?"

AGAINST THE RULES

Little Eric: Comin' out to play football?

Neighbor's Son: Naw. I broke a window yesterday and dad's suspended me for the rest of the season.

There are times when we cannot decide which is the worst, a reckless driver or a careless jaywalker.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:15. Sun rises tomorrow 5:57.

Bird shops are under quarantine in Pittsburgh on account of an outbreak of parrot fever. That ought to give the parrots something to think about, or talk about rather.

Many a moth is getting a little worried over the long wait for Sealskin coats.

Last month in this state 226 autos were stolen of which 132 were recovered. This ought to be a hint to lock your car if you expect to go home the same way you came.

You see stars of the first magnitude with the naked eye. Lesser ones are seen with almost everything naked.

Down in North Carolina, a one-armed bank employee is accused of forging thousands of dollars worth of checks. Think what he might have done with two arms.

You may think that we have a lot of holidays, but they're nothing to the number down in Mexico. Often a whole month passes before the people discover that a closed bank has busted.

No wonder there is a surplus of potatoes. Grocers have quit using them to stop the snout of kerosene cans.

Now if a lot of folks would work six days a week and talk one, instead of working one and talking six, things would really begin to improve.

It may not be long now before Japan will be sending us a note saying she won't be satisfied unless we give her California.

Sometimes it looks as if the war was fought to make the world safe for profiteers.

Anyway, those punsters won't be able to say any more that the Treasury has a "Woodin head." This will be some relief.

Hitler has ordered his German admirers to cease their widespread practice of naming their babies after him, but we doubt very much if any German baby has yet been named Adolf Hitler Cohen.

Business is warming up, declares a much-quoted statistician. You'd hardly think it would need to, considering where it went to.

The Trojan war was fought over a woman. However, there have been others fought as the result of Miss Understanding.

If writing chain letters would bring good luck to people, the United States would be a nation of millionaires, but alas good fortune is more often the result of hard work and lots of it.

Ever notice how a shiftless man is always bragging about some rich relative or other?

Texas has 18,000 more miles of roads than any other state in the Union, and we'll bet she has more mortgages on her farms than ditto.

IMMIGRATION TIDE TURNS Ellis Island, in former years the hope and despair of 6,000 foreign immigrants daily, is a strangely different place today. Instead of throngs arriving from every country in the world, there are now just a few hundred, most of whom await deportation. Only 30,000 of the world-wide immigration quota of 150,000 has been filled this year and at present there are more persons leaving this country to live in foreign lands than there are those applying for entry.

The majority of present day immigrants are for the main part wives, children or aged parents of naturalized citizens who now find that quota restrictions which barred them in former years are no longer existent. Even rules against illiteracy have been modified.

The jewelers have got up a code which defines diamonds as "consisting essentially of pure carbon crystallized in the isometric system, generally in octahedron form." Girls who accept engagement rings should therefore take notice and make sure that the stone comes up to these specifications. We are charging nothing for the tip.

So long as the various administrative agencies in Washington continue to harass business and industry, very long will most employers continue to have the jitters. Putting government in business means also putting politics both in business and government.

KNOW ANY BIGGER

We've had so many animal stories sent in that this contribution of Mrs. R. D. Robbins of Jacksonville, Ill., is a welcome relief.

When I was young I was very popular. One Sunday all the boys came to see me at once, 150 of them, all fine fellows. I liked them all and believe it or not, I had them standing on their heads at the lifting of a finger. They stood until they were finally exhausted and one by one they fell.

I married the one who remained standing last, and rid the place of not only a nuisance but a married man 15 years and the lucky man is still standing on his head.

With no small amount of pride Robert B. Allured relates some of the exploits of his sharpshooting grandfather. He says this marksman was one of the greatest hands with a gun ever known.

He was a quiet man and refused all newspaper publicity, which accounted for the fact that you've never heard of him, but how he could shoot! In cherry season when grandma wanted some of the fruit for preserving, granddad would pick them for her, as well as do the pitting. He liked the pitting part of it best. First he'd load his gun with bird shot, then he'd get one of the neighbors' boys to climb up on the limb and dump a half a bushel of the fruit. As each cherry cleared the eaves and began falling, granddad would fire and shoot the pit out of each one. Oh, once in a great while he might miss one cherry, perhaps, but not very often.

Granddad had many different kinds of guns, but I think the most unusual of all was the one that shot salted bullets. This was a very powerful weapon, but it was not absolutely necessary, it was quite desirable to have them, particularly when granddad was hunting. You see this rifle shot at such great distances that unless the bullets were of a very salty variety the game he had killed would spoil long before he could reach it.

I always used to be open-mouthed when granddad would show his skill with firearms, but I don't think my jaw ever dropped farther than it did the day I was out with him when he was practicing. We had been there some little time when a sudden shower came up. Naturally we didn't want to get wet, yet there didn't seem any help for it because we had no umbrella and there was no shelter near by. I had just about resigned myself to a good soaking, but granddad. He was never the man to give up in a moment. He told me to keep, his guns loaded for him, and I pledge you my word, although it began to rain hard, he hit every drop that came down, so that the ground for about eight feet around us was as dry as punk! And that, my friends, is shooting of the highest order.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

A young woman went into a bank and asked for a check to be cashed. The cashier shook his head.

"I'm sorry," he said politely, "but you'll have to have someone introduce you before I can pay out the money of this check."

She stared at him disbelievingly. "I'll have you understand, sir," she said haughtily, "that I am here strictly on business. I am not paying a social call, and, furthermore, I do not want to know you."

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—The most patent thing in regard to the new money legislation is this:

The financial capital of the United States will be in Washington hereafter.

The government will make the loans. Wall Street banks will become mere government depositaries.

That may not occur in its entirety, immediately—but the banking business soon will be devoid of profits and wealthy men do not remain in businesses devoid of

Nevada Governor Friend Of Hunter

Former Local Resident Recalls
Association With Political Leader

In the death of Governor Fred B. Balzer, of Nevada, which occurred in Carson City, Wednesday, William George Hunter, a former resident of New Castle who has been in this city for several months on a business mission, lost a close friend and political associate in the early boom days of Goldfield.

The same year that Hunter was elected to the state legislature in Nevada, Balzer was elected a state senator from Esmeralda county, Goldfield being the county seat.

Hunter was tendered the speakership at the Democratic caucus, but refused and had the distinction of naming the speaker and speaker pro-tem. He had his little son, James Leslie Hunter appointed a page.

Hunter states that Balzer was one of the most popular men in Nevada, and had he lived, would probably have been the Republican nominee for the United States Senate.

Mr. Hunter expects to return to Nevada in April.

Stock Market Bill Hearings Nearing End

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—Opponents of the stock market bill today battered away at the measure to offset the tremendous influence of its sweeping endorsement by Governor Eugene R. Black of the federal reserve board and the guarded approval expressed by Tom K. Smith, special assistant to the secretary of the treasury.

The two were reported to speak for the White House.

Eugene E. Thompson, president of the Association of Stock Exchanges, was to voice his opposition to the revised bill today, and on Monday or Tuesday, Richard Whitney, New York stock exchange president, will present additional amendments urged by the exchanges of the nation.

Senator Fletcher, chairman of the senate banking committee, said he hoped to terminate hearings on Tuesday and predicted a majority of his committee favored the revised bill with a few minor amendments, including the exemption of state and municipal securities from provisions of the bill.

As Market Opens

MOTOR SHARES LEAD UPSWING

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—The stock market was comparatively buoyant today with gains in the pivotal leaders running from 1 to 3 points.

Leaders in the upswing were the motor shares with General Motors, Chrysler and Auburn rising about a point each. Several of the lower priced motors including Hupp, Packard and Pierce Arrow advanced fractionally on a large turnover.

Upward was a feature in the higher priced specialties getting up about 3 points in short order.

Commodity markets continued to display a strong tone, wheat, corn and other grains opened from 3-8 to 1-4 cent a bushel higher, cotton advanced 50 cents a bale, silver about 1-4 cent an ounce and rubber from 13 to 25 points.

Railroad shares, the group which had been sold most consistently in recent sessions staged a vigorous rebound today with Atchafalpa, New York Central, Lackawanna and several others closing from fractions to more than a point.

United States steel in contrast to its recent poor action opened fractionally higher and quickly extended this to a full point. American Can and Bethlehem also were in demand.

Successful Dance Held At Country Club On Friday

High School Students And
Friends Have Pleading
Social Function Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 24.—It was no idle gesture of the senior B class of the local high school that they were going to hold a pleading social function, independent of supervision of school authorities. To insure this and relieve school officials of any responsibilities, they held a dance at the Ellwood City Country Club Friday night, under the name of the Four Hundred club, that would do credit to any organization.

Being denied the privilege of entertaining their friends at any school function, they took this opportunity to do so last night. Nearly 400 participated in the occasion. Parents of class members were special guests.

The affair was indeed a credit to the club or class. It was run off smoothly and orderly. Dancing was enjoyed until 1 o'clock.

President William Dodds and his active committees were thoroughly pleased with the results and feel confident that they have made an impression on school officials.

Those present adjudged it as one of the most successful social events of the season here.

Court Is Surprised At Verdict Of Jury

Promptly Strikes Off Half Costs
Placed On Morrison In
Musquire Case

Verdict of "not guilty" was returned at county court in the case of E. S. Musquire, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. The jury placed one-half the costs on the prosecutor, Chief of Police W. C. Morrison of Ellwood City, and one-half on Musquire. Judge James A. Chambers told the jury that he was very much surprised that they should have placed half the costs on the prosecutor, and promptly struck off the costs as to Morrison. The evidence showed that he had brought the charge in good faith, believing that Musquire, whose car was found in a ditch, was under the influence of liquor.

Orange Ladies Have Meet Here

Approval Given Two Projects

Addition To Taggart Stadium
Can Be Erected By
C. W. A. Work

Approval was received today by the local CWA offices of the supplementary project in "Snake's Rest," which is a continuation of the water course from the foot of the hill through to the Shenango river. The time allotted in the original project expired and authority was asked for a continuance of the project. This has been received. The project will provide a water course for the freshets which in the past have inundated Snake's Rest in the spring.

Approval has also been received for the erection of the addition to Taggart Stadium, which will mean the enclosing of the ends of the stadium to shut out the view of the free spectator who have been enjoying football for 10 years without cost to themselves.

Stock Market Bill Hearings Nearing End

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—Opponents of the stock market bill today battered away at the measure to offset the tremendous influence of the sweeping endorsement by Governor Eugene B. Black of the federal reserve board and the guarded approval expressed by Tom K. Smith, special assistant to the secretary of the treasury.

The two were reported to speak for the White House.

Eugene E. Thompson, president of the Association of Stock Exchanges, was to voice his opposition to the revised bill today, and on Monday or Tuesday, Richard Whitney, New York stock exchange president, will present additional amendments urged by the exchanges of the nation.

Senator Fletcher, chairman of the senate banking committee, said he hoped to terminate hearings on Tuesday and predicted a majority of his committee favored the revised bill with a few minor amendments, including the exemption of state and municipal securities from provisions of the bill.

Commodity markets continued to display a strong tone, wheat, corn and other grains opened from 3-8 to 1/2 cent a bushel higher, cotton advanced 50 cents a bale, silver about 1/4 cent an ounce and rubber from 13 to 25 points.

Railroad shares, the group which had been sold most consistently in recent sessions staged a vigorous rebound today with Atchison, New York Central, Lackawanna and several others closing from fractions to more than a point.

United States steel in contrast to its recent poor action opened fractionally higher and quickly extended this to a full point. American Can and Bethlehem also were in demand.

Social Function Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 24.—It was no idle gesture of the senior B class of the local high school that they were going to hold a pleasing social function, independent of supervision of school authorities. Biddle Contends Relief Rolls To Stick For Years

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 24.—"Statements that private industry will absorb men dropped in relief jobs are shocking lies," in the opinion of Eric H. Biddle, Pennsylvania CWA administrator and state relief board head.

"Whether we like it or not," Biddle said at exercises attending the transfer of the navy hospital ship Mercy, to the Philadelphia county relief board to house 500 homeless men, "relief measures are with us for many years to come."

"The government, in cutting down on its relief program, is assuming that industry can absorb the huge number of unemployed. There will be just as many people on the relief rolls here a year from now."

Biddle added that "such projects as handing over this vessel to the county relief board serve as an admirable gesture in bringing to the attention of an apathetic people that this whole question of relief will not be downed and cannot be forgotten."

At 5:40 Friday evening firemen were called to 209 Sheridan avenue, where a small blaze occurred in the car of Archie Gordon, caused by backfiring as he was starting the motor. There was small damage.

Canal Backers Await Report Of Committee

Expect Rivers And Harbors Committee To Endorse Engineers' Report

Belief was expressed today by Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce and the Beaver Improvement association, that fair and just consideration will be given by the rivers and harbors committee of the house of representatives to the recommendation of the U. S. board of army engineers that the Beaver and Mahoning rivers be improved for navigation purposes.

Mr. Chilton has just returned from Washington, where he represented the Chamber of Commerce, river association and mayor and city council at the hearing held before the rivers and harbors committee during the past week.

Create Work Idea

There is an erroneous impression in the minds of Lawrence and Beaver county residents that the county governments will have to pay the greater percentage of the damages incident to the channelization of these streams, Mr. Chilton stated.

The total cost of this improvement as determined by the United States army engineers is estimated to be $47,000,000, including a total cost of all damages, including rail, highway and other alterations, up to Struthers, O., which has been estimated at $8,000,000. This would include 20 per cent for engineering, continuing the legal expenses. Of this amount, $7,000,000 would be chargeable to riparian interests and the balance to the United States. These damages represent the raising of old bridges or construction of new ones, damages to riparian rights, water power rights, water flowage rights, etc.

General E. M. Markham, chief of the United States army engineers, stated Tuesday at the hearing that the construction cost and cost of damages had been figured much higher than it was actually felt they would be.

General Markham together with Brig. Gen. George Pillsbury, laid stress on the fact that these so-called damages, estimated at $8,000,000, would be paid on all agencies affected, each being assessed their proportionate amount. In other words, railroad interests, power companies, riparian interests, the state highway department and counties would be assessed their proportionate share.

Estimate County Cost.

Quoting from page 118 of the district engineers' report, the total cost to Lawrence county, as a result of the construction of three locks, dams and pools in the county would be $451,000, of which it is estimated one-half would be borne by the state highway department and one-half by Lawrence county, making the county's share approximately $225,000.

"The question arises," Mr. Chilton said, "as to whether we shall allow our bearing our fair proportionate share, which is a nominal one, prevent this development which means the salvation of the industries now existing in this district and further industrial development which is almost certain to come as a result of this improvement."

Those in attendance from Lawrence county during the first two days of the hearing, in addition to Mr. Chilton, were City Engineer Harry Hoskins, County Commissioner P. O. Elder, Burgess Judd C. Turner of Ellwood City and W. P. Rice, general manager of the Crescent Portland Cement company at Wampum.

Sportsmen Enjoy Informal Reunion

County's Oldtime Hunters, All Past 50, Reminisce At Dinner

Pipe smoke curled about in the Elks club's dining room for several hours last night while a happy group of 42 oldtime New Castle hunters, their thoughts fastened on the past, met in an informal dinner-reunion called only to give the veteran sportsmen another chance to tell their favorite stories and to attest to the younger sportsmen of the community their love for the out-of-doors.

Muse Is Toastmaster

Attorney George W. Muse was the evening's toastmaster, calling upon different members of the group for impromptu talks. Attorney Elder J. Bryan was chairman of arrangements.

Only one thing was required for attendance—the promoters said everyone had to be 50 years of age or over. Most of them were.

Speakers included Muse, Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, Odd J. Hart, Dr. John Foster, Joe C. Williams, W. McCullough, Dr. D. C. Sandler, T. C. Post, M. J. Ingham, L. C. John, Henry Anderson and R. Gibson. Attorney Dickey, in his speech, eulogized the late W. H. Kleckner, who was head of the Lehigh Portland Cement company here and a leader in local sportsmen's affairs.

Biddle Contends Relief Rolls To Stick For Years

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 24.—"Statements that private industry will absorb men dropped from relief jobs are shocking lies," in the opinion of Eric H. Biddle, Pennsylvania CWA administrator and state relief board head.
"Whether we like it or not," Biddle said at exercises attending the transfer of the navy hospital ship Mercy, to the Philadelphia county relief board to house 500 homeless men, "relief measures are with us for many years to come."
"The government, in cutting down on its relief program, is assuming that industry can absorb the huge number of unemployed. There will be just as many people on the relief rolls here a year from now."
Biddle added that "such projects as handing over this vessel to the county relief board serve as an admirable gesture in bringing to the attention of an apathetic people that this whole question of relief will not be downed and cannot be forgotten."

Canal Backers Await Report Of Committee

Belief was expressed today by Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce and the Beaver, Mahoning & She-nango Rivers Improvement association, that fair and just consideration will be given by the rivers and harbors committee of the house of representatives to the recommendation of the U. S. board of army engineers that the Beaver and Mahoning rivers be improved for navigation purposes.
Mr. Chilton has just returned from Washington, where he represented the Chamber of Commerce, river association and mayor and city council at the hearing held before the rivers and harbors committee during the past week.
Create Wrong Idea.
There is an erroneous impression in the minds of Lawrence and Beaver county residents that the county governments will have to pay the greater percentage of the damages incident to the channelization of these streams, Mr. Chilton stated.
The total cost of this improvement as determined by the United States army engineers is estimated to be $47,000,000, including a total cost of all damages, including rail, highway and other alterations, up to Struthers, O., which has been estimated at $8,000,000. This would include 20 per cent for engineering, construction and legal expenses. Of this amount, $7,000,000 would be chargeable to riparian interests and the balance to the United States. These damages represent the raising of old bridges or construction of new ones, damages to riparian rights, water power rights, water flowage rights, etc.
General E. M. Markham, chief of the United States army engineers, stated Tuesday at the hearing that the construction cost and cost of damages had been figured much higher than it was actually felt they would be.
General Markham together with Brig. Gen. George Pillsbury, laid stress on the fact that these so-called damages, estimated at $8,000,000, would be assessed on all agencies affected, each being assessed their proportionate amount. In other words, railroad interests, power companies, riparian interests, the state highway department and counties would be assessed their proportionate share.
Estimate County Cost.
Quoting from page 118 of the district engineers' report, the total cost to Lawrence county, as a result of the construction of three locks, dams and pools in the county would be $451,000, of which it is estimated one-half would be borne by the state highway department and one-half by Lawrence county, making the county's share approximately $226,000.
"The question arises," Mr. Chilton said, "as to whether we shall allow our bearing our fair proportionate share, which is a nominal one, prevent this development which means the salvation of the industries now existing in this district and further industrial development which is almost certain to come as a result of this improvement."
Those in attendance from Lawrence county during the first two days of the hearing, in addition to Mr. Chilton, were City Engineer Harry Hoskins, County Commissioner P. O. Elder, Burgess Judd C. Turner of Ellwood City and W. P. Rice, general manager of the Crescent Portland Cement company at Wampum.

Pheasants To Start Laying In A Short Time

Birds At Jordan Game Farm Being Placed In Laying Pens Now

Superintendent V. T. Warfel, of the Jordan State Game Farm near Harlansburg, stated today that the pheasants who have been wintered at the farm for spring breeding purposes are now being rounded up and placed in the laying pens. Pheasants usually begin laying in this locality in the first week of April, Supt. Warfel says. Last year, with 1300 hens and 300 male birds in the laying pens, over 61,000 eggs were produced at the Jordan State Game Farm between April 1 and June 30. About the same number of breeders are being used this year.

On hundred fifty covered pens each 12 feet square, will each house 5 hens and 1 male bird. The rest of the pheasants will be placed in three large laying fields their detention insured by clipping their wings and by high wire fence surrounding the fields.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for past 24 hours ending 3:30 p. m., March 23—14 arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 7, violation of parking law 8, and drunkenness 1.

J. Russell Urmon, T. L. Paden and H. R. Grabenstreeter, members of the civil service commission for engineers and electricians, will serve without pay. No committee appointed by council receives remuneration.

Council has accepted from Dr. J. M. Popp a check for $142.05, in full settlement of a lien filed through no fault of his for paving of the widened portion of North Mercer street.

Windows in the city police station were given a cleaning yesterday and as a result it is now quite easy to see "Who's Who" along East street. However, with traffic kicking up dust clouds it won't be long before they need it again.

And now that council has asked for bids on a chassis and a truck for the garbage department housewives can rest assured that when the city buys them it won't take the garbage collection department long to remove garbage and tin cans.

Visitors to city hall recently: Excuseman Clayton H. Reeves, former mayor, William E. Gillespie, and former councilman, L. C. Geringer. Ex-Mayor W. V. Tyler also strolled through Councilman alley, second floor, a few days ago.

Commissioner of the chamber of commerce, Al Clinton, threw a bouquet when he told council: "I want to tell you that City Engineer Hoskins certainly created a favorable impression during his efforts to get the city $150,000 from the FWA at Washington."

Owners of the Glendinning property, Clennore boulevard, will pay the city $73.41 for constructing a manhole in the boulevard. The property owners asked the city to build the manhole and agreed to pay for it. It has been completed.

The communicable illness chart which for years was kept at the department of health has been discontinued. Certain colored pins were placed on different parts of the map. The pins showed the type of illness and section of the city.

Several present officials are reported being discussed as mayoralty candidates, likewise one for county commissioner, a former official of the city for mayor, likewise a member of a city committee and a business man for mayor.

City officials have signed a lease with Mrs. Ellen Travers by which the city will rent ground near the P. & L. E. tracks, first ward, at a rate of $15.00 a month for one year. The ground will be used for storage purposes.

Carmel Glover can breathe a sigh of relief now that spring is here (is it). Likelihood of deep snowfalls is passing and he can go to bed assured he will not be awakened at midnight to be asked: "Are the hills asked?"

For courtesy the city treasurer and his employees are past masters in knowing how to distribute it. Whenever a treasurer or his coadjutors can take your last cent and send you smiling from the pay-up window they know how to be courteous.

Things here could be worse, frimstance, firemen, policemen and nearly all other city employees of Youngstown are to go on half time April 1. Youngstown is six months ahead of its income. Employees here have been cut between 20 and 21 percent.

Pearson gave an interesting talk on Egypt where he toured recently. He described Cairo, told the customs of the people and told of his visit to the Valley of the Kings.

City police department today was requested to search for Dorothy Molts, 16, who resides in Savannah vicinity. She has been missing since yesterday. Her description: weight 125, hair brown, coat, brown; shoes, brown, dress, light colored.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have received a petition containing nearly one thousand names asking that it be a new court house be built that it be erected on or near the site of the present court house. The petition is really many petitions in one, as the several sections were circulated not only in New Castle, but in various parts of the county. Each section had the same heading. It is signed by all classes of citizens in the city and county.

It is understood that there are a number of sites being considered for a court house, among them being the present site, which, if selected, it is claimed, would not involve the expenditure of any money for a location, unless the Boyles property, adjoining was acquired. This property would probably have to be condemned, if it is secured, as the owner is understood to be adverse to selling.

Among other sites which have been suggested are the Rosena furnace property on South Mill street, the Martin Gantz school site, and two other sites fronting on South Jefferson street, as well as one facing the diamond, and possibly two or three on other streets. The county commissioners have shown no undue haste in selecting a site, preferring to get the sentiment of the people.

According to a member of the Croton viaduct organization an effort is likely to be made to get the Croton viaduct proposition before the grand jury which convenes in June. It was before the March grand jury which turned it down, after a hearing at which considerable testimony was offered on both sides. It was thought that the decision of the March grand jury would be final, but not according to the Croton boosters who have paraphrased the slogan of Captain Lawrence in a memorable naval engagement into, "Don't Give Up the Viaduct."

Arguments will be heard by the supreme court at Pittsburgh on next Monday in the case of The Thayer Company, architects, against County Controller, R. C. McCaslin. This is the case in which the court issued a mandamus on the controller to pay a bill of the architect's for drawing preliminary plans for a new court house. The Thayer Company will be represented by Attorney Walter G. Braham, the controller by Attorneys Orville Brown and C. H. Akens and the county by Attorney William C. McElwee, Jr., solicitor. The main point involved is whether or not it was within the discretionary power of the county controller to refuse to pay the bill. There has never been a supreme court decision on the point involved, since the new law went into effect, so that whatever decision is handed down will establish a precedent. In view of the urgency of the case it is expected that the supreme court will hand down a decision without any unreasonable delay.

Will of the late Mary H. Taylor has been admitted to probate of the office of the register and recorder. After making bequests to Mrs. Grace Taylor, Phillis Jean Taylor and Mrs. Pearl Hoon, decedent leaves the remainder of her property to Dora E. Ludwick, Nellie C. Ludwick and R. Norton Ludwick, to be divided equally. Dora C. Ludwick and R. Norton Ludwick are named as executors.

By the will of the late Robert S. Bryan of Ellwood City all of his property is left in trust with the First National bank of Ellwood for his adopted daughter, Margaret Bryan, to be paid to her when she attains the age of 21 years. In the event of her death before she is 21 it is to go to her only son, Preston Bryan. Preston Bryan is left insurance, the amount of which is not named.

Receiver of the Pittsburgh, Harmony, New Castle and Butler Electric Railway conferred with county commissioners and County Treasurer William C. Pitts yesterday over the assessments of property held by the company in this county. The assessments include property in New Castle, Ellwood City and other points through which the company had a right of way. The line has not operated for several years.

Trinity Church Palm Procession

Special Ceremonies Will Mark The Services Significant Of Triumphant Entry

Palm Sunday in Trinity church at the corner of N. Mill and E. Falls streets, is made just as near like the reaction of the people when Christ first entered Jerusalem on the last week of His life as possible, and the meaning of this week is emphasized. "He taught it by word and deed. One of the leading features in the procession of palms at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. will be choir and congregation sing "All glory, laud and honor" and "Ride on in majesty." Special music will be rendered by the organist, Paul Browne Patterson, and the vested choir under his direction at these services. Important numbers on the musical program are: "The organ prelude, 'Allegro, Guitant', the communion service, 'Sanctus' by Agutter, the anthem 'Rejoice greatly' by Henry Gadsby and the organ postlude, 'Meditation' by Diggle.

The palms will be set apart for their holy use at the 7:30 a. m. service. In former years, large congregations have always attended these services. As exact counts by the ushers show, larger numbers than usual attended the Wednesday evening mid-week Lenten services, the last of which will be on March 28. It is expected that many people will come to worship in Trinity church tomorrow.

Pheasants To Start Laying In A Short Time

Birds At Jordan Game Farm Being Placed In Laying Pens Now

Superintendent V. T. Warfel, of the Jordan State Game Farm near Harlansburg, stated today that the pheasants who have been wintered at the farm for spring breeding purposes are now being rounded up and placed in the laying pens. Pheasants usually begin laying in this locality in the first week of April, Supt. Warfel says. Last year, with 1300 hens and 300 male birds in the laying pens, over 61,000 eggs were produced at the Jordan State Game Farm between April 1 and June 30. About the same number of breeders are being used this year.

One hundred fifty covered pens each 12 feet square with each house 5 hens and 1 male bird. The rest of the pheasants will be placed in three large laying fields their detention insured by clipping their wings and by high wire fence surrounding the fields.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have received a petition containing nearly one thousand names asking that if a new court house is built that it be erected on or near the site of the present court house. The petition is really many petitions in one, as the several sections were circulated not only in New Castle, but in various parts of the county. Each section had the same heading. It is signed by all classes of citizens in the city and county.

It is understood that there are a number of sites being considered for a court house, among them being the present site, which, if selected, it is claimed, would not involve the expenditure of any money for a location, unless the Boyles property, adjoining, was acquired. This property would probably have to be condemned, if it is secured, as the owner is understood to be adverse to selling.

Among other sites which have been suggested are the Rosa furnace property on South Mill street, the Martin Gantz school site, and two other sites fronting on South Jefferson street, as well as one facing the diamond, and possibly two or three on other streets. The county commissioners have shown no undue haste in selecting a site, preferring to get the sentiment of the people.

According to a member of the Croton viaduct organization an effort is likely to be made to get the Croton viaduct proposition before the grand jury which convenes in June. It was before the March grand jury which turned it down, after a hearing at which considerable testimony was offered on both sides. It was thought that the decision of the March grand jury would be final, but not according to the Croton boosters who have paraphrased the slogan of Captain Lawrence in a memorable naval engagement into, "Don't Give Up the Viaduct."

Arguments will be heard by the supreme court at Pittsburgh on next Monday in the case of The Thayer Company, architects, against County Controller, R. C. McCaslin. This is the case in which the court issued a mandamus on the controller to pay a bill of the architect's for drawing preliminary plans for a new court house. The Thayer Company will be represented by Attorney Walter G. Brahm, the controller by Attorneys Orville Brown and C. H. Akens and the county by Attorney William G. McElwee, Jr., solicitor. The main point involved is whether or not it was within the discretionary power of the county controller to refuse to pay the bill. There has never been a supreme court decision on the point involved, since the new law went into effect, so that whatever decision is handed down will establish a precedent. In view of the urgency of the case it is expected that the supreme court will hand down a decision without any unreasonable delay.

Wilson Has Great Hopes For Phillies In Coming Season

New Manager Of Philly National League Team Is Full Of Confidence

Klein, Davis And Whitney Gone, But Phillies Will Be In There Fighting

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 24.—If you take three wheels off a wagon, what have you got? Don't be silly, Julius; you've got an accident, which reminds me that I've just been looking at the Philadelphia National league baseball club. They're the club that's going to get along this year without Charley Klein, the pitcher, Virgil Davis, the catcher, and a party by the name of "Pinkey" Whitney, third baseman.

Klein, Davis and Whitney have been sold or traded to Chicago, St. Louis and Boston respectively, and I might add that it seems to be an old Philadelphia custom. Any time you're crazy enough to get good in Philadelphia, they're through with you; they call in the corner and ask for an inquest. In other words, they take the money and you take the train.

Wilson Confident.
However, hear Jimmy Wilson, the new manager, about that. He admits that Klein was good, which that, after all, there's nothing like being broad minded. Still, in the matter of runs scored, Klein only finished in a tie for second place; so maybe that's the trouble.

"Trouble?" said Mr. Wilson today, in a puzzled way. "You must be crazy. Where's the trouble connected with a deal that permits one star to get away and gives us the money to buy only 'tops' in minor league material. I don't know how anybody else feels about it, but personally I think we're away out in front when we can buy minor leaguers like George Darrow, Galveston; Curtis Davis, San Francisco; Reg Grubbs, Reading; Lou Chiozza, Memphis; Meredith Hopkins and Irv Jeffries, St. Paul, and Henry Oana, the Hawaiian from Portland.

"Trouble? You're in the wrong camp, mister. You must be looking for a place where they haven't got a young club that's budding."

But what about Davis, who hit .346 for the club and drove in a lot of runs? Well, it seems that Mr. Wilson didn't rightly know about that.

"But," said he, quickly, "don't talk about that. Talk about this: Our regular pitchers—Phil Collins, Jim Elliott, Roy Hansen, Ed Holley, Austin Moore and Frank Pearce—averaged less than three earned runs per game in 77 games on the home grounds last year. That's pitching. Also talk about this: Darrow won 22 for Galveston, Davis 20 for San Francisco and Grubbs 17 for Reading. That's pitching. And in case you want another name, there's Ted Kleinhaus, who won 19 for Atlanta."

Bartell Good.
And I might add, that that's talking. But it didn't stop the Phillies from finishing seventh last time and probably won't again.

"They have no defense—but here's Mr. Wilson once more—here's 'No defense.' Why, the key jobs are perfect. Bartell is the best shortstop in the league, Chick Fullis is the best centerfielder in the league and as for the catching I don't want to go too deeply into that, but the sport writers seem to think I'm pretty good."

"Hust!" is one of the best first basemen in the league. Jeffries hit .343 for St. Paul. He'll hit for us and play plenty of second base. Either Chiozza or Hopkins will make good at third. Maybe both of them will and I won't know what to do. That would be terrible, wouldn't it?"

Fast Outfield.
I agreed that it would and then said something about the rest of the outfield, outside of Fullis, being ordinary.

"Would you say that Schumacher was ordinary?" he demanded.

The other job he will go to Oana, who everybody has passed up because they've heard that he's a 9 o'clock boy, only it's the wrong 9. Harvey Hendrick, the old timer, Bill Rubie, who's been around before, and Ethan Allen, who's around yet.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jerry Vidro of Grand Rapids, Mich., bowling in the 34th tourney at Peoria, lost a chance to set a new American Bowling congress record when he faltered in his last game of the individual event. However, he led the division with a 721 total. He opened his single series with a 245. He registered eight straight strikes in this game. His second effort resulted in a spectacular 277 count, getting nine consecutive strikes. Vidro, who was playing in the A. B. C. for the first time, chalked up three straight strikes to start the game then slipped. In the fifth he picked up two pins of a three-pin spare and did the same in the ninth. He was credited with a 201. Larry Shotwell, Covington, Ky., set a record of 774 at Cleveland in 1930.

There will be no beaver hunting in Forest county this year. The season is to close April 10 in Pennsylvania. Sometime ago a suit to restrain persons from hunting beaver in Forest county was brought and yesterday Judge Arrid continued the suit until April 18. A United States forest ranger asserted yesterday beaver cause no damage because the timber they cut for dams and homes is mostly aspen with little commercial value. The owner of 30,000 acres in Forest county disagreed with the statement. He contended the beaver cause flood on lowlands and the rotting of valuable second growth white pine.

Cliff Montgomery And New York Girl Sever Engagement

Columbia Grid Star And Pretty New York Girl Decide To Remain Single

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—Cliff Montgomery, star quarterback and hero of Columbia's Rose Bowl victory over Stanford last New Year's day, today admitted that his engagement to pretty Natalie L. Tettervan had been dissolved by mutual consent.

Said Cliff: "Miss Tettervan is a dandy girl but we just decided that we'd better remain good friends instead of getting married. Understand, there has been no ill-feeling over this matter. Our plan was dissolved by mutual consent."

Said Miss Tettervan: "It's just one of those things—no specific reason. If I'm interested in anyone at the moment, perhaps it's an army flier who is now in Washington. But I hope that Cliff and I can remain good friends. I've known him for four years. He's great, both as a football hero and as a pal."

Union High Tops Alumni 21 To 19 In Final Battle

Schaas, Boron And Morrison Divide Scoring Honors In Last Game Of Season

Union high school basketball team, section 18 W. P. I. A. L. and Lawrence county league champions, ended their 1933-34 season last night at the Union high floor by taking the measure of the fast Alumni quintet 21 to 19, with big George Schaas the high scorer for Union and with Jack Mottinger high point man for the Alumni. A large crowd witnessed the game.

The end of the first period it was 11 to 2 Union, and at the end of the half the Boydmen had run the count to 16 to 8. The Alumni had trouble in loading the basket. The end of the third period it was a little different with the Alumni putting on the steam and tying the score at 19-19. In the final period the Unionites didn't give the old timers a single point while they scored two points themselves, Morrison shooting the winning field goal.

It was the final game for Paul Morrison, Wayne White, "Red" Boron, Dom Monico and Walter Hughes and the fans gave them a rousing cheer when they left the game. All of them will be missed next year. Coach Boyd used practically the same team at one stage in the game that will represent Union next year.

It was 19 out of 24 victories for Coach "Pop" Boyd and his Unionites. In four Union made 6 out of 13 and the Alumni made 3 out of 10.

The summary:

Jones Has Lost Putting Touch

Bobby Jones Far Down In List Of Augusta, Georgia, Tourney Players

HORTON SMITH OUT IN FRONT

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

AUGUSTA, Ga., Mar. 24.—On a blustery early spring day of 1934, Bobby Jones, the greatest amateur golfer just turned 28, sank one on the old Augusta Country club 18th green to spread-eagle the crack professional army that had been marching triumphantly through Florida.

Thirteen strokes behind, at the head of the harried professional assault, stood Horton Smith, a tall, slim Nordic blond, younger by several years, who had come howling out of the Missouri plains like a tornado.

Then, with no more worlds to conquer, he quit.

Today, four years after, Bobby at the half-way mark in his comeback from self-imposed retirement, stands far back in the milling throng of the sixty-odd professionals that were handicapped from the game's best, swamped by a flood tide of the steady par golf that once carried him to victory.

Fate, time and circumstances make queer bedfellows.

Eight strokes ahead of Bobby and leading the field two under par for 36 holes with 142 is that self same Horton Smith.

Jones, the old master who asked for it and half-way through the battle is on the receiving end in a great big way, shaved his floundering first 76 by only 2 strokes yesterday to wind up with a 36-hole total of 150.

Putter Jitters

Between him and Smith, the leader, are 26 of the field of 72. Two others are in tie with him. Thursday 44 bettered or equalled Jones' score.

A jittery putter that has not shot his score full of holes has proved his nervousness so far. But there probably has never been a greater exhibition of courage and fortitude against great odds displayed on a golf course, or perhaps in any competitive sport, anywhere. Bobby is trying gamely, maybe too hard. His game dropped in a week from setting a record for the course record at the Augusta national to shooting up in the middle seventies.

Jones Worried

It got him worried. It has put pressure into his approach shots

Nevada Governor Friend Of Hunter

Former Local Resident Recalls Association With Political Leader

In the death of Governor Fred B. Balzer of Nevada, which occurred in Carson City, Wednesday, William George Hunter, a former resident of New Castle who has been in this city for several months on a business mission, lost a close friend and political associate in the early boom days of Goldfield.

The same year that Hunter was elected to the state legislature in Nevada, Balzer was elected a state senator from Esmeralda county, Goldfield being the county seat.

Hunter was tendered the speakership at the Democratic caucus, but refused and had the distinction of naming the speaker and speaker pro-tem. He had his little son, James Leslie Hunter appointed a page.

Hunter states that Balzer was one of the most popular men in Nevada, and had he lived, would probably have been the Republican nominee for the United States Senate.

Mr. Hunter expects to return to Nevada in April.

Wilson Has Great Hopes For Phillies In Coming Season

New Manager Of Philly National League Team Is Full Of Confidence

Klein, Davis And Whitney Gone, But Phillies Will Be In There Fighting

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 24.—If you take three wheels off a wagon, what have you got? Don't be silly, Julius; you've got an accident, which reminds me that I've just been looking at the Philadelphia National league baseball club. They're the club that's going to get along this year without Charley Klein, the hitter; Virgil Davis, the catcher, and a party by the name of "Pinkie" Whitney, third baseman.

Klein, Davis and Whitney have been sold or traded to Chicago, St. Louis and Boston respectively, and I might add that it seems to be an old Philadelphia custom. Any time you're crazy enough to get good in Philadelphia, they're through with you; they call in the coroner and ask for an inquest. In other words, they take the money and you take the train.

Wilson Confident.
However, hear Jimmy Wilson, the new manager, about that. He admits that Klein was good, which that, after all, there's nothing like being broad minded. Still, in the matter of runs scored, Klein only finished in a tie for second place; so maybe that's the trouble.

"Trouble?" said Mr. Wilson today, in a puzzled way. "You must be crazy. Where's the trouble connected with a deal that permits one star to get away and gives us the money to buy only 'tops' in minor league material. I don't know how anybody else feels about it, but personally I think we're away out in front when we can buy minor leaguers like George Darrow, Galveston; Curtis Davis, San Francisco; Reg Grubbs, Reading; Lou Chiozza, Memphris; Meredith Hopkins and Irv Jeffries, St. Paul, and Henry Oana, the Hawaiian from Portland.

"Trouble? You must be looking for a place where they haven't got a young club that's hustling."

But what about Davis, who hit .348 for the club and drove in a lot of runs? Well, it seems that Mr. Wilson didn't rightly know about that.

"But," said he, quickly, "don't talk about that. Talk about this: Our regular pitchers—Phil Collins, Jim Elliott, Roy Hansen, Ed Holley, Austin Moore and Frank Pearce—averaged less than three earned runs per game in 77 games on the home grounds last year. That's pitching. Also talk about this: Darrow won 22 for Galveston, Davis 20 for San Francisco and Grabowski 17 for Reading. That's pitching. And in case you want another name, there's Ted Kleinhaus, who won 19 for Atlanta."

Bartell Good.
And I might add, that that's talking. But it didn't stop the Phillies from finishing seventh last time and probably won't again.

They have no defense—but here's Mr. Wilson once more.

"No defense? Why, the key jobs are perfect. Bartell is the best shortstop in the league, Chick Fullis is the best centerfielder in the league and as for the catching I don't want to go too deeply into that, but the sport writers seem to think I'm pretty good."

"First is one of the best first basemen in the league. Jeffries hit .343 for St. Paul. He'll hit for us and play plenty of second base. Either Chiozza or Hopkins will make good at third. Maybe both of them will and I won't know what to do. That would be terrible, wouldn't it?"

Fast Outfield.
I agreed that it would and then said something about the rest of the outfield, outside of Fullis, being ordinary.

"Would you say that Schulmerich was ordinary?" he demanded.

The other job will go to Oana, who everybody has passed up because they've heard that he's a 9 o'clock boy, only it's the wrong 9. Harvey Hendrick, the old timer; Bill Ruble, who's been around before, and Ethan Allen, who's around yet.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jerry Vidro of Grand Rapids, Mich., bowling in the 34th tourney at Peoria, lost a chance to set a new American Bowling congress record when he faltered in his last game of the individual event. However, he led the division with a 721 total. He opened his single series with a 243. He registered eight straight strikes in this game. His second effort resulted in a spectacular 277 count, getting nine consecutive strikes. Vidro, who was playing in the A. B. C. for the first time, chalked up three straight strikes to start the game then slipped. In the fifth he picked up two pins of a three-pin spare and did the same in the ninth. He was credited with a 201. Larry Shotwell, Covington, Ky., set a record of 774 at Cleveland in 1930.

There will be no beaver hunting in Forest county this year. The season is to close April 10 in Pennsylvania. Sometime ago a suit to restrain persons from hunting beaver in Forest county was brought and yesterday Judge Arndt continued the suit until April 18. A United States forest ranger asserted yesterday beavers cause no damage because the timber they cut for dams and homes is mostly aspen with little commercial value. The owner of 30,000 acres in Forest county disagreed with the statement. He contended the beaver dams cut off flow on lowlands and the rotting of valuable second growth white pine.

Columbia Grid Star And Pretty New York Girl Decide To Remain Single

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—Cliff Montgomery, star quarterback and hero of Columbia's Rose Bowl victory over Stanford last New Year's day, today admitted that his engagement to pretty Natalie L. Tetterman had been dissolved by mutual consent.

Said Cliff: "Miss Tetterman is a dandy girl but we just decided that we'd better remain good friends instead of getting married. Understand, there has been no ill-feeling over this matter. Our plan was dissolved by mutual consent."

Said Miss Tetterman: "It's just one of those things—no specific reason. I'm interested in anyone at the moment, perhaps it's an army flier who is now in Washington. But I hope that Cliff and I can remain good friends. I've known him for four years. He's great, both as a football hero and as a pal."

Union High Tops Alumni 21 To 19 In Final Battle

Schaas, Boron And Morrison Divide Scoring Honors In Last Game Of Season

Union high school basketball team, section 18 W. P. I. A. L. and Lawrence county league champions, ended their 1933-34 season last night at the Union high floor by taking the measure of the fast Alumni quintet 21 to 19, with big George Schaas the high scorer for Union and with Jack Mottinger high point man for the Alumni. A large crowd witnessed the game.

The end of the first period it was 11 to 2 Union, and at the end of the half the Boydmen had run the count to 16 to 8. The Alumni had trouble in locating the basket. The end of the third period it was a little different with the Alumni putting on the steam and tying the score at 19-19. In the final period the Unionists didn't give the old timers a single point while they scored two points themselves, Morrison shooting the winning field goal.

It was the final game for Paul Morrison, Wayne White, "Red" Boron, Don Monico and Walter Hughes and the fans gave them a rousing cheer when they left the game. A number of them will be missed next year. Coach Boyd used practically the same team at one stage in the game that will represent Union next year. It was 19 out of 24 victories for Coach "Pop" Boyd and his Unionists. In fouls Union made 5 out of 13 and the Alumni made 3 out of 10.

Jones Has Lost Putting Touch

Bobby Jones Far Down In List Of Augusta, Georgia, Tourney Players

HORTON SMITH OUT IN FRONT

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

AUGUSTA, Ga., Mar. 24.—On a blustery early spring day of 1930, a short, chunky, young amateur golfer just turned 28, sank one on the old Augusta Country club 18th green to spread-eagle the crack professional army that had been marching triumphantly through Florida.

Thirteen strokes behind, at the head of the harried professional assault, stood Horton Smith, a tall, slim Nordic blond, younger by several years, who had come howling out of the Missouri plains like a tornado.

Won Four Titles
Bobby Jones, after the Augusta victory, marched through the finest of the game could produce to successive triumphs in the American and British open and amateur tournaments for his amazing grand slam of golf.

Then, with no more worlds to conquer, he quit.

Today, four years after, Bobby at the half-way mark in his comeback from self-imposed retirement, stands far back in the milling throng of the sixty-odd professionals that were handicapped from the game's best, swamped by a flood tide of the steady par golf that once carried him to victory.

Fate, time and circumstances make queer bedfellows.

Eight strokes ahead of Bobby and leading the field two under par for 36 holes with 142 is that self same Horton Smith.

Jones, the old master who asked for it and half-way through the battle is on the receiving end in a great big way, shaved his floundering first 76 by only 2 strokes yesterday to wind up with a 36-hole total of 150.

Putter Jitters
Between him and Smith, the leaders, are 26 of the field of 72. Two others are in tie with him. Thursday 44 bettered or equalled Jones' score.

A jittery putter that has not shot his score full of holes has proved his nemesis so far. But there probably has never been a greater exhibition of courage and fortitude against great odds displayed on a golf course, or perhaps in any competitive sport, anywhere. Bobby is trying gamely, maybe too hard. His game dropped in a week from setting a 65 for the course record at the Augusta national to shooting up in the middle seventies.

Jones Worried
It got him worried. It has put pressure into his approach shots.

Stock Market Bill Hearings Nearing End

(WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—Opponents of the stock market bill today battered away at the measure to offset the tremendous influence of its sweeping endorsement by Governor Eugene R. Black of the federal reserve board and the guarded approval expressed by Tom K. Smith, special assistant to the secretary of the treasury.

The two were reported to speak for the White House.

Eugene E. Thompson, president of the Association of Stock Exchanges, was to voice his opposition to the revised bill today, and on Monday or Tuesday, Richard Whitney, New York stock exchange president, will present additional amendments urged by the exchanges of the nation.

Senator Fletcher, chairman of the senate banking committee, said he hoped to terminate hearings on the bill with a few minor amendments, including the exemption of state and municipal securities from provisions of the bill.

As Market Opens

MOTOR SHARES LEAD UPSWING

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—The stock market was comparatively buoyant today with gains in the pivotal leaders running from 1 to 3 points.

Leaders in the upswing were the motor shares, with General Motors, Chrysler and Auburn rising about a point each. Several of the lower priced motors including Stupp, Packard and Pierce Arrow advanced fractionally on a large turnover.

Dupont was a feature in the higher priced specialties getting up about 3 points in short order.

Commodity markets continued to display a strong bias, wheat, corn and other grains opened from 3-4 to 4-5 cent, a bushel higher, cotton advanced 50 cents, a bale, silver about 1-4 cent an ounce and rubber from 13 to 25 points.

Railroad shares, the group which had been sold most consistently in recent sessions, staged a vigorous rebound today with Atchafalaya, New York Central, Lackawanna and several others closing from fractions to more than a point.

United States steel in contrast to its recent poor action opened fractionally higher and quickly extended this to a full point. American Can and Bethlehem also were in demand.

Successful Dance Held At Country Club On Friday

High School Students And
Friends Have Pleading
Social Function Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 24.—It was no idle gesture of the senior B class of the local high school that they were going to hold a pleading social function, independent of supervision of school authorities. To insure this and relieve school officials of any responsibilities, they held a dance at the Ellwood City Country Club Friday night under the name of the Four Hundred Club, that would do credit to any organization.

Being denied the privilege of entertaining their friends at any school function, they took this opportunity to do so last night. Nearly 400 participated in the occasion. Parents of class members were special guests.

The affair was indeed a credit to the club of class. It was run off smoothly and orderly. Dancing was enjoyed until 1 o'clock.

President William Dodds and his active committees were thoroughly pleased with the results and feel confident that they have made an impression on school officials.

Those present adjourned to be one of the most successful social events of the season here.

Promptly Strikes Off Half Costs
Placed On Morrison In
Musquique Case

Verdict of "not guilty" was returned at county court in the case of E. S. Musquique, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. The jury placed one-half the costs on the prosecutor, Chief of Police W. C. Morrison of Ellwood City, and one-half on Musquique. Judge James A. Chambers told the jury that he was very much surprised that they should have placed half the costs on the prosecutor, and promptly struck off the costs as to Morrison. Approval Given Two Projects

Approval was received today by the local CWA offices of the supplementary project in "Snake's Rest" which is a continuation of the water course from the foot of the hill through to the Shenango river. The time allotted in the original project expired and authority was asked for a continuance of the project. This has been received. The project will provide a water course for the freshets which in the past have inundated Snake's Rest in the spring.

Approval has also been received for the erection of the addition to Taggart Stadium, which will mean the enclosing of the ends of the stadium to shut out the view of the free spectators who have been enjoying football for 10 years without cost to themselves.

Legion Of Honor Books Big Revue

Big Vaudeville Show Will Be Presented At Cathedral Starting April 6

PLAN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SHOWS

Ivor Richards, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Legion of Honor, announced today a new deal in theatrical entertainment for theaters of New Castle.

Starting Friday, April 6, and continuing through Saturday, two days, a professional vaudeville and musical show will be presented on the stage of the Cathedral, and each Friday and Saturday thereafter, under the auspices of the Legion of Honor. Because of the enormous seating capacity of the Cathedral, the cream of vaudeville entertainment will be offered at popular prices, with no seats reserved.

The shows will be individually staged, with a galaxy of vaudeville stars sprinkled throughout the show.
The stage show will run for two hours. Civic pride and not profits prompted the launching of the shows, Mr. Richards explained. It is hoped that the merchants will profit by the visitors attracted to New Castle because of this great stage program of entertainment.

The first stage show, entitled Cabaret Revue, will embody such well-known headliners from musical comedy, vaudeville and radio as Ray Roney, that inimitable master-of-ceremonies; Billy Cullerton and his Hotel Biltmore orchestra, a band of distinction and reputation from coast to coast; those Five Dashing Demoselles, a bevy of dancing girls who have a routine of filler ensemble specialties that are entirely out of the ordinary;
Gracie Engle, in her sensational acrobatic specialty, has an international reputation. This little lady will prove a decided hit with her audiences.

The Crescent Trio will introduce some new and novel harmony numbers. This attraction is well known in vaudeville, having been featured and headlined over the leading circuits in the United States. Betty

Lynn, billed as Miss Personality, is just that. Special mention must be called to Janet & Hardy, in the Act Beautiful. Here is an attraction that is decidedly away from the beaten path, and their rhapsoy in gold will be a distinctive feature. The Cady Twins, two beautiful blond girls, will captivate their audiences in their particularly pleasing specialties. Tony and Carl those celebrated rhythm boys, will introduce some new and intricate steps to New Castle theatergoers.

Extra added attractions, composing Cabaret Revue are none other than Clifford and Leslie, those merry jesters. Here is a pair of comedians who have an act built for laughing purposes only, and they never fail to keep their audiences in a continual howl of laughter; Walzer and Kuban, billed as one of vaudeville's funniest acts, will in the parlance of the theater prove a positive show stopper; Hollywood Jimmy Walker, California's favorite entertainer, has a vehicle that is different and entertaining.

All in all, Cabaret Revue, consisting of 56 entertainers of merit, will accord the public of New Castle a program of entertainment that will please the most skeptical and most critical.

Party Harmony Is Still Sought

Martin May File Petition In Republican Gubernatorial Primary Battle

MAY BE EIGHT IN PRIMARY RACE

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 24.—Republican State Chairman Edward Martin may file petitions for the G. O.
P. gubernatorial nomination with the hope that his threatened candidacy will bring about agreement on a harmony candidate, according to reliable reports today.

With only two days left for filing petitions, Lieut. Gov. Edward C.
Shannon, choice of the state chairman, and Judge Marion D. Patterson, Blair county, are the two candidates for one of whom agreement is sought.

Martin, his friends say, does not intend to remain in the field as a candidate but his decision to file nominating papers would not be surprising. Five Republicans already have filed for the gubernatorial primary and at least two more, beside Martin, will file.

Organization leaders feel that failure to agree on a candidate only two days before filing deadline indicates that some "club" must be available during the seven-day withdrawing period before April 2. With Martin in the field, leaders believe they can whip other candidates into line more easily, it was explained, by threatening to consolidate behind Martin unless the field is cleared.

Candidates whose petitions are filed are Judge Patterson; Thomas W. Phillips, former Butler congressman; Benjamin G. Eymon, Scranton; Charles A. Dravo, Swarthmore, and Congressman Edward L. Stokes.
Shannon and Attorney General William A. Schnader have yet to file petitions.

J. Howard Swick Seeks Re-election

Congressman Announces His Candidacy For Nomination
And Re-election
This Year

J. HOWARD SWICK

To the citizens of Beaver, Butler, and Lawrence Counties:

I respectfully announce my candidacy for nomination and re-election as your Representative in Congress, based on my record—known to all—as an honest and sincere effort to do the greatest good for the greatest number.

The world, our country included, still experiences this long drawn out depression. Governments have fallen. Dictatorships established. I thank God our People retain their faith in the Constitution of the United States, though there are many who would wreck our social structure and institutions—Communism.
Great losses have been felt; hundreds of thousands of people have been compelled to rely upon their government for support, for legislation of this kind I have fought and will continue to do so without impairing national credit.

Unemployment and Old Age must be provided for; steps must be taken to stop the recurrence of such a depression; Federal Acts will lead the way and you will find your Congressman fighting to that end.

I will continue to support legislation that will extend the recovery powers of the R. F. C. and similar agencies, to small business and industry, the home owner and protective home builder, the farmer included. The public school with all its influence for good citizenship and high standards must be maintained at all costs.

I recognize the necessity of maintaining a progressive attitude in these changing times, on matters of public policy at the same time protecting American principles that they may be enjoyed by those to come after us.

I am not unmindful of the loyal support and cooperation given me through the years by my constituents whom I have the honor to represent. I extend to each and all of you my very sincere appreciation.

If continued in office I pledge you the same service I have rendered in the past. Your votes and influence are respectfully solicited by me.

Faithfully yours,
J. HOWARD SWICK.

Biddle Contends Relief Rolls To Stick For Years

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 24.—"Statements that private industry will absorb men dropped from relief jobs are shocking lies," in the opinion of Eric H. Biddle, Pennsylvania CWA administrator and state relief board head.

"Whether we like it or not," Biddle said at exercises attending the transfer of the navy hospital ship Mercy to the Philadelphia county relief board to house 500 homeless men, "relief measures are with us for many years to come."

"The government, in cutting down on its relief program, is assuming that industry can absorb the huge number of unemployed. There will be just as many people on the relief rolls here a year from now."

Biddle added that "such projects as handing over this vessel to the county relief board serve as an admirable gesture in bringing to the attention of an apathetic people that this whole question of relief will not be downed and cannot be forgotten."

Canal Backers Await Report Of Committee

Expect Rivers And Harbors Committee To Endorse Engineers' Report

Relief was expressed today by Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce and the Beaver, Mahoning and Shango Rivers Improvement association, that fair and just consideration will be given by the rivers and harbors committee of the house of representatives to the recommendation of the U. S. board of army engineers that the Beaver and Mahoning rivers be improved for navigation purposes.

Mr. Chilton has just returned from Washington, where he represented the Chamber of Commerce, river association and mayor and city council at the hearing held before the rivers and harbors committee during the past week.

Create Wrong Idea

There is an erroneous impression in the minds of Lawrence and Beaver county residents that the county government will have to pay the greater percentage of the damages incident to the channelization of these streams, Mr. Chilton stated.

The total cost of this improvement as determined by the United States army engineers is estimated to be $47,000,000, including a total cost of all damages, including rail, highway and other alterations up to Struthers, O., which has been estimated at $8,000,000. This would include 20 per cent for engineering, construction and land expenses. Of this amount, $7,000,000 would be chargeable to riparian interests and the balance to the United States. These damages represent the raising of old bridges or construction of new ones, damages to riparian rights, water power rights, water storage rights, etc.

General E. M. Markham, chief of the United States army engineers, stated Tuesday at the hearing that the construction cost and cost of damages had been figured much higher than it was actually felt they would be.

General Markham together with Brig. Gen. George Pillsbury, laid stress on the fact that these so-called damages, estimated at $8,000,000, would be borne by all adjacent lands affected, each being assessed their proportionate amount. In other words, railroad interests, power companies, riparian interests, the state highway department and counties would be assessed their proportionate share.

Estimate County Cost

Quoting from page 118 of the district engineers' report, the total cost to Lawrence county, as a result of the construction of three locks, dams and pools in the county would be $48,000,000. It is estimated that one-half would be borne by the state highway department and one-half by Lawrence county, making the county's share approximately $22,500,000.

"The question arises," Mr. Chilton said, "as to whether we shall allow our bearing our fair proportionate share, which is a nominal one, to prevent this development, which means the salvation of the industries now existing in this district and further industrial development which is almost certain to come as a result of this improvement."

Those in attendance from Lawrence county during the first two days of the hearing, in addition to Mr. Chilton, were City Engineer Harry Hoskins, County Commissioner P. O. Elder, Burgess Judd C. Turner of Ellwood City and W. P. Rice, general manager of the Crescent Portland Cement company at Wampum.

Fear Banker Is Kidnaped

(International News Service)
RENO, Nev., Mar. 24.—Fear was expressed today that Roy J. Frisch, 42, Reno banker, has been the victim of revenge kidnapers. He disappeared mysteriously Thursday night after attending a motion picture theater.

Federal agents joined with police to trace the possible connection of Frisch's disappearance with his testimony in New York federal courts recently that resulted in the conviction of four men charged with swindling a Pennsylvania woman and a Rochester, N. Y. couple of more than $200,000 in false horse racing and stock deals.

Frisch was to return to New York early in April to testify against James McKay and William Graham Reno, "night club kings" scheduled to be tried for conspiracy in connection with alleged bunco activities.

Legion Of Honor Books Big Revue

Big Vaudeville Show Will Be Presented At Cathedral Starting April 6

PLAN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SHOWS

Ivor Richards, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Legion of Honor, announced today a new deal in theatrical entertainment for theatergoers of New Castle.

Starting Friday, April 6, and continuing through Saturday, two days, a professional vaudeville and musical show will be presented on the stage of the Cathedral, and each Friday and Saturday thereafter, under the auspices of the Legion of Honor. Because of the enormous seating capacity of the Cathedral, the cream of vaudeville entertainment will be offered at popular prices, with no seats reserved.

The shows will be individually staged, with a galaxy of vaudeville stars sprinkled throughout the show. The stage show will run for two hours. Civic pride and not profits prompted the launching of the show, Mr. Richards explained. It is hoped that the merchants will profit by the visitors attracted to New Castle because of this great stage program of entertainment.

The first stage show, entitled Cabaret Revue, will embody such well-known headlines from musical comedy, vaudeville and radio as Ray Ray, that inimitable master-of-ceremonies; Billy Culliton and his Hotel Biltmore orchestra, a band of distinction and reputation from coast to coast; those Five Dashing Demoselles, a bevy of dancing girls who have a routine of Tiller ensemble specialties that are entirely out of the ordinary; Gracie Engle, in her sensational acrobatic specialty, has an international reputation. This little lady will prove a decided hit with her audiences.

The Crescent Trio will introduce some new and novel harmony numbers. This attraction is well known in vaudeville, having been featured and headlined over the leading circuits in the United States. Betty

Lynn, billed as Miss Personality, is just that. Special mention must be called to Janet & Hardy, in the Act Beautiful. Here is an attraction that is decidedly away from the beaten path, and their rhapsody in gold will be a distinctive feature. The Cady Twins, two beautiful blond girls, will captivate their audiences in their particularly pleasing specialties. Tony and Carl, those celebrated rhythm boys, will introduce some new and intricate steps to New Castle theatergoers.

Extra added attractions, composing Cabaret Revue are none other than Clifford and Leslie, those merry jesters. Here is a pair of comedians who have an act built for laughing purposes only, and they never fail to keep their audiences in a continual howl of laughter; Walzer and Kuban, billed as one of vaudeville's funniest acts, will in the parlance of the theater prove a positive show stopper; Hollywood Jimmy Walker, California's favorite entertainer, has a vehicle that is different and entertaining. All in all, Cabaret Revue, consisting of 50 entertainers of merit, will accord the public of New Castle a program of entertainment that will please the most skeptical and most critical.

Party Harmony Is Still Sought

Martin May File Petition In Republican Gubernatorial Primary Battle

MAY BE EIGHT IN PRIMARY RACE

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 24.—Republican State Chairman Edward Martin may file petitions for the G. O. P. gubernatorial nomination with the hope that his threatened candidacy will bring about agreement on a harmony candidate, according to reliable reports today.

With only two days left for filing petitions, Lieut. Gov. Edward C. Shannon, choice of the state chairman, and Judge Marion D. Patterson, Blair county, are the two candidates for one of whom agreement is sought.

Martin, his friends say, does not intend to remain in the field as a candidate but his decision to file nominating papers would not be surprising. Five Republicans already have filed for the gubernatorial primary and at least two more, beside Martin, will file.

Organization leaders feel that failure to agree on a candidate only two days before filing deadline indicates that some "club" must be available during the seven-day withdrawal period before April 2. With Martin in the field, leaders believe they can whip other candidates into line more easily, it was explained, by threatening to consolidate behind Martin unless the field is cleared.

Candidates whose petitions are filed are Judge Patterson; Thomas W. Phillips, former Butler congressman; Benjamin G. Eynon, Scranton; Charles A. Dravo, Swarthmore, and Congressman Edward L. Stokes. Shannon and Attorney General William A. Schnader have yet to file petitions.

Sterling Enters State Race For Lieut Governor

HARRISBURG, Pa. Mar. 24.—Another candidate for lieutenant-governor entered the field today when Representative Philip Sterling, of Philadelphia, announced that he was a candidate for the Republican nomination.

As a very young man Sterling entered the House of Representatives in 1917 and has served continuously and for three sessions was chairman of the important Ways and Means Committee. He headed the Sterling Commission the duty of which was to recommend economies in the governmental structure. The findings of the committee were not popular with job holders, but did contain a lot of truth.

J. Howard Swick Seeks Re-election

Congressman Announces His Candidacy For Nomination And Re-election This Year

J. HOWARD SWICK

To the citizens of Beaver, Butler, and Lawrence Counties:

I respectfully announce my candidacy for nomination and re-election as your Representative in Congress, based on my record—known to all—as an honest and sincere effort to redeem campaign pledges; my purpose is and always has been to do the greatest good for the greatest number.

The world, our country included, still experiences this long drawn out depression. Governments have fallen. Dictatorships established. I thank God our People retain their faith in the Constitution of the United States, though there are many who would wreck our social structure and institutions. Communism. Great losses have been felt; hundreds of thousands of people have been compelled to rely upon their government for support, for legislation of this kind I have fought and will continue to do so without impairing national credit.

Unemployment and Old Age must be provided for; steps must be taken to stop the recurrence of such a depression; Federal Acts will lead the way and you will find your Congressman fighting to that end.

I will continue to support legislation that will extend the recovery powers of the R. F. C. and similar agencies, to small business and industry, the home owner and prospective home builder, the farmer in need. The public school with all its influence for good citizenship and high standards must be maintained at all costs.

I recognize the necessity of maintaining a progressive attitude in these changing times, on matters of public policy at the same time protecting American principles that they may be enjoyed by those to come after us.

I am not unmindful of the loyal support and cooperation given me through the years by my constituents whom I have the honor to represent. I extend to each and all of you my very sincere appreciation. If continued in office I pledge you the same service I have rendered in the past. Your votes and influence are respectfully solicited by me.

Faithfully yours,
J. HOWARD SWICK.

Pheasants To Start Laying In A Short Time

Birds At Jordan Game Farm Being Placed In Laying Pens Now

Superintendent V. T. Warfel, of the Jordan State Game Farm near Harlansburg, stated today that the pheasants who have been wintered at the farm for spring breeding purposes are now being rounded up and placed in the laying pens.

Pheasants usually begin laying in this locality in the first week of April, Supt. Warfel says. Last year, with 1300 hens and 300 male birds in the laying pens, over 61,000 eggs were produced at the Jordan State Game Farm between April 1 and June 30. About the same number of breeders are being used this year.

One hundred fifty covered pens each 12 feet square, will each house 5 hens and 1 male bird. The rest of the pheasants will be placed in three large laying fields, their destination insured by clipping their wings and by high wire fence surrounding the fields.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for past 24 hours ending 3:30 p. m., March 23: 14 arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness, 7; violation of parking law, 6; and drunkenness, 1.

J. Russell Urmon, T. L. Paden and H. R. Grabenstreiter, members of the civil service commission for engineers and electricians, will serve without pay. No committee appointed by council receives remuneration.

Council has accepted from Dr. J. M. Popp a check for $142.05, in full settlement of a lien filed through no fault of his for paying of the widened portion of North Mercer street.

Windows in the city police station were given a cleaning yesterday and as a result it is now quite easy to see "Who's Who" along East street. However, with traffic kicking up dust clouds it won't be long before they need it again.

And now that council has asked for bids on a chassis and a truck for the garbage department housewives can rest assured that when the city buys them it won't take the garbage collection department long to remove garbage and the cans.

Visitors to city hall recently: Ex-councilman Clayton H. Reeves, former mayor; William A. O'Connell, former councilman; L. O. Connelley, ex-Mayor W. V. Tyler also strolled through Councilman alley second floor a few days ago.

Commissioner of the chamber of commerce, A. C. Chilton, threw a banquet when he told council: "I want to tell you that City Engineer"

Several present officials are reported being discussed as mayoralty candidates, likewise one for county commissioner, a former official of the city for mayor, likewise a member of a city committee and a business man for mayor.

City officials have signed a lease with Mrs. Ellen Travers by which the city will rent ground near the P. & L. E. tracks, first ward, at a rate of $15.00 a month for one year. The ground will be used for storage purposes.

For courtesy the city treasurer and his employees are past masters in knowing how to distribute it. Whenever a treasurer or his coadjutors can take your last cent and send you smiling from the pay-up window they know how to be courteous.

Things here could be worse, I'm sure. Firemen, policemen, and nearly all other city employees of Youngstown are to go on half time April 1. Youngstown is six months ahead of its income. Employees here have been cut between 20 and 21 percent.

E. S. And A. Club Members Meet

Members of the E. S. and A. club held their monthly meeting last night in the Glendinning building. It was one of the best meetings of the season and the largest crowd yet was in attendance. The program was in charge of the Treasury Department of the Pennsylvania Power company. Knowles mandolin or piano, furnished the music and special section numbers were rendered by Arnie Jodi. S. D. Pearson gave an interesting talk on Egypt where he toured recently. He described Cairo, told the customs of the people and told of his visit to the Valley of the Kings.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have received a petition containing nearly one thousand names asking that a new court house be built that be erected on or near the site of the present court house. The petition is really many petitions in one and as the several sections were circulated not only in New Castle, but in various parts of the county. Each section had the same heading. It is signed by all classes of citizens in the city and county.

It is understood that there are a number of sites being considered for court house, among them being the present site which, if selected, it is claimed, would not involve the expenditure of any money for a location, unless the Boyles property, adjoining was acquired. This property would probably have to be condemned, if it is secured, as the owner is understood to be adverse to selling.

Among other sites which have been suggested are the Rosses farm property, on South Hill street, the Martin Gantz school site and two other sites fronting on South Jefferson street, as well as one facing the diamond, and possibly two or three on other streets. The county commissioners have shown no undue haste in selecting a site, preferring to get the sentiment of the people.

According to a member of the Croton viaduct organization an effort is likely to be made to get the Croton viaduct proposition before the grand jury which convenes in June. It was before the March grand jury which turned it down after a hearing at which considerable testimony was offered on both sides. It was thought that the decision of the March grand jury would be final, but not according to the Croton leaders who have paraphrased the slogan of Captain Lawrence in a memorable naval engagement into, "Don't Give Up the Viaduct."

Arguments will be heard by the supreme court at Pittsburgh on next Monday, in the case of The Thayer Company, Architects, against County Controller R. C. McCallin. This is the case in which the court issued a mandamus on the controller to pay a bill of the architect for drawing preliminary plans for a new court house. The Thayer Company will be represented by Attorney Walter C. Graham, the controller by Attorney Orville Brown and C. E. Akens and the county by Attorney William G. McElwee, Jr., solicitor. The main point involved is whether or not it was within the discretionary power of the county controller to refuse to pay the bill. There has never been a supreme court decision on the point involved, since the new law went into effect, so that whatever decision is handed down will establish a precedent. In view of the urgency of the case, it is expected that the supreme court will hand down a decision without any unreasonable delay.

Will of the late Mary H. Taylor has been admitted to probate of the office of the register and recorder after making bequests to: Mrs. Grace Taylor, Phillis Jean Taylor and Mrs. Pearl Hoon, decedent leaves the remainder of her property to Dora E. Ludwick, Nellie C. Ludwick and R. Norton Ludwick, to be divided equally. Dora C. Ludwick and R. Norton Ludwick are named as executors.

By the will of the late Robert S. Bryan of Ellwood City all of his property is left in trust with the First National bank of Ellwood for his adopted daughter, Margaret Bryan, to be paid to her when she attains the age of 21 years. In the event of her death before she is 21 it is to go to decedent's son, Robert S. Bryan. Preston Bryan left insurance, the amount of which is not named.

Receiver of the Pittsburgh, Harmony, New Castle and Butler Electric Railway conferred with county commissioners and County Treasurer William D. Pitts yesterday over the assessment of property held by the company in this county. The assessments include property in New Castle, Ellwood City and other points through which the line has had a right of way. The line has not operated for several years.

Wilson Has Great Hopes For Phillies In Coming Season

New Manager Of Philly National League Team Is Full Of Confidence

Klein, Davis And Whitney Gone, But Phillies Will Be In There Fighting

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 24.—If you take three wheels off a wagon, what have you got? Don't be silly, Julius; you've got an accident, which reminds me that I've just been looking at the Philadelphia National league baseball club. They're the club that's going to get along this year without Charley Klein the hitter, Virgil Davis, the catcher, and a party by the name of "Pinkie" Whitney, third baseman.

However, hear Jimmy Wilson, the manager, about that. He admits that Klein was good, which that after all, there's nothing like being broad minded. Still, in the matter of runs scored, Klein only finished in a tie for second place, so maybe that's the trouble.

"Trouble?" said Mr. Wilson today, in a puzzled way. "You must be crazy. Where's the trouble connected with a deal that permits one star to get away and gives us the money to buy only 'tops' in minor league material. I don't know how anybody else feels about it, but personally I think we're away out in front when we can buy minor leaguers like George Darrow, Galveston; Curt Davis, San Francisco; Reg Grubbs, Reading; Lou Chisza, Memphis; and others."

phie; Meredith Hopkins and Irv Jeffries, St. Paul, and Henry Oana, the Hawaiian from Portland.

"But what about Davis, who hit .348 for the club and drove in a lot of runs? Well, it seems that Mr. Wilson didn't rightly know about that."

"But," said he, quickly, "don't talk about that. Talk about this. Our regular pitchers—Bill Collins, Jim Elliott, Roy Hansen, Ed Holley, Austin Moore and Frank Pearce—averaged less than three earned runs per game in 77 games on the home grounds last year. That's pitching. As talk about this. Darrow won 22 for Galveston, Davis 20 for San Francisco, and Grubbs 17 for Reading. That's hitting. And in case you want another name, there's Ted Kleinhaus, who won 19 for Atlanta."

Barrell Good.

And I might add that that's talking. But it didn't stop the Phillies from finishing seventh last time and probably won't again.

They have no defense—but here's Mr. Wilson once more.

"No defense? Why, the key job is perfect. Barrell is the best shortstop in the league. Chick Fullis is the best centerfielder in the league and as for the catching I don't want to go too deeply into that, but the sport writers seem to think I'm pretty good."

"Hurt is one of the best first basemen in the league," Jeffries hit .348 for St. Paul. "Bill hit .300 and played plenty of second base. Either Chisza or Hopkins will make good at third. Maybe both of them will and I won't know what to do. That would be terrible, wouldn't it?"

Fast Outfield.

I agreed that it would and then said something about the rest of the outfield, outside of Fullis, being ordinary.

"Would you say that Schulmerich was ordinary?" he demanded.

The other job will go to Oana, who everybody has passed up. "I can't say that," he said, "but I'm a clock boy, only it's the wrong one. Harvey Hendrick, the old timer, Bill Rube, who's been around before, and Ethan Allen, who's around yet."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Jerry Vidro of Grand Rapids, Mich., bowling in the 24th tournament at Forest last night, set a new American Bowling Congress record when he faltered in his last game of the individual event. However, he led the division with a 721 total. He opened his single series with a 743. He registered eight straight strikes in this game. His second effort resulted in a spectacular 277 count, getting nine consecutive strikes. Vidro, who was playing in the A. B. C. for the first time, chalked up three straight strikes to start the game then slipped. In the fifth he picked up two pins of a three-pin spare and did the same in the ninth. He was credited with a 201. Larry Shotwell, Covington, Ky., set a record of 774 at Cleveland in 1930.

There will be no beaver hunting in Forest county this year. The season is to close April 30 in Pennsylvania. Sometime ago a suit to restrain persons from hunting beaver in Forest county was brought and yesterday Judge Arndt continued the suit until April 18. A United States forest ranger asserted yesterday that beaver cause no damage because the timber they cut for dams and homes is mostly aspen with little commercial value. The owner of 30,000 acres in Forest county disagreed with the statement. He contended the beaver dams cause floods on lowlands and the rotting of valuable second-growth white pine.

Columbia Grid Star And Pretty New York Girl Decide To Remain Single

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—Cliff Montgomery, star quarterback and half of Columbia's Rose Bowl victory over Stanford last New Year's day, today admitted that his engagement to pretty Natalie L. Tetterman had been dissolved by mutual consent.

Said Cliff:

"Miss Tetterman is a dandy girl but we just decided that we'd better remain good friends instead of getting married. Understand, there has been no ill-feeling over this matter. Our plan was dissolved by mutual consent."

Said Miss Tetterman:

"It's just one of those things—no specific reason. If I'm interested in anyone at the moment, perhaps it's an army flier who is now in Washington. But I hope that Cliff and I can remain good friends."

He is a football hero and as a pal."

Schaas, Boron And Morrison Divide Scoring Honors In Last Game Of Season

Union-high school basketball team, section 18 W. P. I. A. L. and Lawrence county league champions, ended their 1933-34 season last night at the Union high floor by taking the measure of the fast Alumni quintet 21 to 19, with big George Schaas the high scorer for Union and with Jack Mottinger high point man for the Alumni. A large crowd witnessed the game.

The end of the first period it was 11 to 2 Union, and at the end of the half the Boydmans had run the count to 16 to 8. The Alumni had trouble in locating the basket. In the final period the Unionites didn't give the old timers a single point while they scored two points themselves. Morrison shooting the winning field goal.

It was the final game for Paul Morrison, Wayne White, "Red" Boron, Dom Monico and Walter Hughes and the fans gave them a rousing cheer when they left the game. All of them will be missed next year. Coach Boyd used practically the same team at one stage in the game that will represent Union next year. It was 19 out of 24 victories for Coach "Pop" Boyd and his Unionites. Jones Has Lost Putting Touch

HORTON SMITH OUT IN FRONT

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

AUGUSTA, Ga., Mar. 24.—On a blustery early spring day of 1934, a short, chunky, young amateur golfer, just turned 23, sank one on the old Augusta Country club 18th green to spread-eagle the crack professional army that had been marching triumphantly through Florida.

Thirteen strokes behind, at the head of the harried professional assault, stood Horton Smith, a tall slim Nordic blond, younger by several years, who had come bowling out of the Missouri plains like a tornado.

Won Four Titles

Bobby Jones, after the Augusta victory, marched through the finest the game could produce to successive triumphs in the American and British open and amateur tournaments for his amazing grand slam of golf.

Then, with no more worlds to conquer, he quit.

Today, four years after Bobby at the half-way mark in his comeback from self-imposed retirement, stands far back in the milling throng of the sixty odd professionals that were handicapped from the game's best, swamped by a flood of the steady par golf that once carried him to victory.

Fate, time and circumstances make queer bedfellows.

Eight strokes ahead of Bobby and leading the field two under par for 36 holes with 142 is that same Horton Smith.

Jones, the old master who asked for it and half-way through the battle is on the receiving end in a great big way, shaved his floundering first 76 by only 2 strokes yesterday to wind up with a 36-hole total of 150.

Petter Jittery

Between him and Smith, the leader, are 23 of the field of 72. Two others are in tie with him. Thursday 44 bettered or equalled Jones' score.

A jittery putter that has not shot his score full of holes has proved his nemesis so far. But there probably has never been a greater exhibition of courage and fortitude against great odds displayed on a golf course, or perhaps in any competitive sport, anywhere. Bobby is trying gamely, maybe too hard. His game dropped in a week from setting a 58 for the course record at the Augusta national to shooting up in the middle seventies.

Jones Worried

It got him worried. It has put pressure into his approach shots.

and made this phase of his game erratic because he is trying too hard to get within a few inches of the pin.

Bobby has been showing the greatest drives and wood shots of his long career. But for them he would be soaring in the eighties. "Tournaments are won on the green," Bobby said several days ago.

Legion Of Honor Books Big Revue

Big Vaudeville Show Will Be Presented At Cathedral Starting April 6

PLAN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SHOWS

Ivor Richards, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Legion of Honor, announced today a new deal in theatrical entertainment for theatergoers of New Castle.

Starting Friday, April 6, and continuing through Saturday, two days, a professional vaudeville and musical show will be presented on the stage of the Cathedral, and each Friday and Saturday thereafter, under the auspices of the Legion of Honor. Because of the enormous seating capacity of the Cathedral, the cream of vaudeville entertainment will be offered at popular prices, with no seats reserved.

The shows will be individually staged, with a galaxy of vaudeville stars sprinkled throughout the show. The stage show will run for two hours. Clive Price and not profits prompted the launching of the show, Mr. Richards explained. It is hoped that the merchants will profit by the visitors attracted to New Castle because of this great stage program of entertainment.

The first stage show, entitled Cabaret Revue, will embody such well-known headliners from musical comedy, vaudeville and radio field as Ray Ray, that inimitable master of ceremonies; Billy Culliton and his Hotel Biltmore orchestra, a band of distinction and reputation from coast to coast; those Five Dashing Dames, a bevy of dancing girls who have a routine of Tiller ensemble specialties that are entirely out of the ordinary; Gracie England, in her sensational acrobatic specialty; has an international reputation. This little lady will prove a decided hit with her audiences.

The Crescent Trio will introduce some new and novel harmony numbers. This attraction is well known in vaudeville, having been featured and headlined over the leading circuits in the United States. Betty

Lynn, billed as Miss Personality, is just that. Special mention must be called to Janet & Hardy, in the Act Beautiful. Here is an attraction that is decidedly away from the beaten path, and their rhapsody in gold will be a distinctive feature. The Candy Twins, two beautiful blond girls, will captivate their audiences in their particularly pleasing specialties. Tony and Carl, those celebrated rhythm boys, will introduce some new and intricate steps to New Castle theatergoers.

Extra added attractions, composing Cabaret Revue are none other than Clifford and Leslie, those merry jesters. Here is a pair of comedians who have an act built for laughing purposes only, and they never fail to keep their audiences in a continual howl of laughter. Walter and Kuban, billed as one of vaudeville's funniest acts, will in the parlance of the theater prove a positive show stopper. Hollywood Jimmy Walker, California's favorite entertainer, has a vehicle that is different and entertaining. All in all, Cabaret Revue, consisting of 50 entertainers of merit, will accord the public of New Castle a program of entertainment that will please the most skeptical and most critical.

St. Patrick Day Program Is Given

Pupils of the Thaddeus Stevens school staged a most interesting St. Patrick's program on Thursday afternoon.

Party Harmony Is Still Sought

Martin May File Petition In Republican Gubernatorial Primary Battle

MAY BE EIGHT IN PRIMARY RACE

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 24.—Republican State Chairman Edward Martin may file petitions for the G. O. P. gubernatorial nomination with the hope that his threatened candidacy will bring about agreement on a harmony candidate, according to reliable reports today.

With only two days left for filing petitions, Lieut. Gov. Edward C. Shannon, choice of the state chairman, and Judge Marion D. Patterson, Blair county, are the two candidates for one of whom agreement is sought.

Martin, his friends say, does not intend to remain in the field as a candidate, but his decision to file nominating papers would not be surprising. Five Republicans already have filed for the gubernatorial primary and at least two more, beside Martin, will file.

Organization leaders feel that failure to agree on a candidate only two days before filing deadline indicates that some "chub" must be available during the seven-day drawing period before April 2. With Martin in the field, leaders believe they can whip other candidates into line more easily. It was explained, by threatening to consolidate behind Martin unless the field is cleared.

Candidates whose petitions are filed are Judge Patterson, Thomas W. Phillips, former Butler congressman, Benjamin G. Eyrone, Scranton, Charles A. Dravo, Swarthmore, and Congressman Edward L. Stokes. Shannon and Attorney General William A. Schnader have yet to file petitions.
